Nazi Defenses In Belgium 'Bulge' Are Being Pushed Back

Last Escape Roads For Nazis Being Heavily Blasted

Spokesman For Marshal Montgomery Declares German Bulge Now Caving In

ALLIES CLOSE IN ON THREE SIDES

By THURSTON MACAULEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The last German escape roads out of the Ardennes pocket in eastern Belgium were blasted today by cross-fire of American artillery as Allied armies closed in from three sides and a spokesman at headquarters of Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared that the German bulge was caving in.

The spokesman at Marshal Montgomery's headquarters revealed that American and British troops, steadily shrinking the salient in attacks from the north, west and south, had taken almost a dozen additional towns and captured several thousand Nazi prisoners.

Germans Drop Back

The Germans dropped back on the northern flank in the face of persistent American First Army assaults, fighting rearguard actions with infantry while attempting to pull back and save Field Marshal Karl Gerd von Rundstedt's armored force.

Heavy battling continued at La Roche, where the Americans assaulted after over-running the Nazi-held bastion of Samree with armor and infantry forces.

British Second Army troops advancing through the forest of Nolaumont, southeast of Marche, captured the town of Roy, east of Amby, and other British units took the town of Nossogne, two miles northeast of Bure.

Neck Of Salient Reduced

While Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army forces on the southern flank moved up generally all along the front, narrowing the neck of the salient to less than nine miles, the Yanks suffered a setback at Plamierge, west of Bastogne. (The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet quoted German frontline reports saying the Allies had narrowed the salient at some points to a width of only six miles.)

General Patton's troops were forced back from Plamierge three days ago, headquarters revealed. Despite this, the Americans enjoyed a satisfactory tactical situation. Accounts from the front reported a definite large scale movement of (Continued on Page Six)

Yanks Astonished At Failure Of Japs To Oppose Landing

By CLARK LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD ADMIRAL KINKAID'S FLAGSHIP, Lingayen Gulf, Jan. 11.—Vice Admiral Jesse Oldendorf told today how his heavy bombardment force withstood the weight of repeated heavy Jap air onslaughts throughout January 6, and then, to the Japs' astonishment, returned to Lingayen Gulf the following day to resume pounding of shore targets.

"The Japs threw everything at us when we first came in on the sixth," said the grizzled, tanned, smiling victor of the Surigao Straits battle during the epochal second naval battle of the Philippines.

Japs Are Surprised

"They never thought we would take it," he said. "But the next day we were back and their air wasn't. My guess is that when they saw me pull out for the night they thought we were retreating and then drank so much sake they couldn't fly on the seventh."

Oldendorf said the Jap airmen concentrated on warships rather (Continued on Page Two)

La Roche Taken By Allied Troops

(BULLETIN)

WITH U. S. FIRST ARMY, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Allied troops today captured the town of La Roche, formerly a pivotal point of German armed strength in the western sector of the Von Rundstedt salient in Belgium.

Only nine prisoners were taken. American forces are cleaning up the Nazi "strays."

Long Campaign In Philippines, Stimson's View

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Secretary of War Stimson today said that Gen. MacArthur's invasion of Luzon means an "extended campaign" and that much hard fighting ahead of the American troops.

The secretary hailed the latest invasion as a "mile stone on the path of victory over Japan."

"When we have made sure of the liberation of Luzon, which will not be an easy task," Stimson added, "we shall have definitely cut off Japan from the oil, rubber and other trade of the stolen empire in the East Indies."

Necessity For Byrnes Order Is Questioned

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Necessity for War Mobilizer James T. Byrnes' order directing an end of all out-door advertising drawing on the coal supply and his request for a maximum temperature of 68 degrees in homes and buildings was questioned today by interests affected.

Stuyvesant Peabody, large Illinois coal mine operator, said he believed Byrnes' fears of an impending coal shortage which actuated the war mobilizer's order, were unfounded.

There is no bituminous coal shortage at present in this area, not even one pending. Stock piles are adequate and even above normal.

Peabody said that a coal shortage could develop only if Byrnes has undisclosed plans for forcing coal miners into other work.

YOUNG WOMAN SAYS SHE'LL MARRY PRISONER OF WAR

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Pretty Eva Caprari, 19, insisted today she would be married to an Italian prisoner of war interned at Chambersburg, Pa., by Army officers at Fort Slocum, near White Plains, were not so sure.

Provisions of the Geneva conference and an edict by the provost marshal general, the officers explained, require that a prisoner be returned to his own country, without change in status, at the close of hostilities.

But Miss Caprari, flashing an engagement ring, insisted she would become the bride—after the war if not earlier—of Corp. Delfino Rosetti, to whom she was introduced at the Chambersburg camp by a mutual friend last April. He was captured during the Tunisian campaign.

HANNOVER IS BOMBED

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The German communications and industrial center of Hannover was blasted from the air during the night by speedy British Mosquito bombers which unloaded 4,000-pound block-busters on the city, the air ministry announced today.

Says Italians Are Used At Front As Protective Screen

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Jan. 11.—Italian construction workers are being used by the Germans as human detonators of land mines, a captured German soldier said today.

The prisoner also revealed that Adolf Hitler had ordered Field Marshal Albert Kesselring to hold the Reno river—Italy's Rhine—at all costs.

The prisoner, captured on the Fifth army's front, is a member of the Nazi 710th division, which was last known to be defending the coastline of Norway.

He said that Italians forming a TODT construction organization were used as a protective screen by Nazi patrols, "to draw fire and detonate mines."

Weather Hampers

Snow and ice continued to limit ground operations on the Italian front, but patrols were active on both fronts.

Fighters and fighter-bombers of the Mediterranean Allied Air Forces launched new assaults against enemy communications and supply in Northern Italy.

Wide-scale attacks were made yesterday against communications and road and rail traffic. Fuel and supply dumps in the Po valley were bombed throughout the day.

River and coastal transportation was hit by allied planes.

More than 700 sorties were flown. Three aircraft failed to return from these operations.

Paper Collection Here Saturday

City And Surrounding Townships To Share In Salvage Program

HUGE COLLECTION IS ANTICIPATED

Saturday, January 13, is waste paper collection day in New Castle and the surrounding townships. No paper collection was made in December and the one on Saturday should be one of the largest yet made.

Old newspapers, magazines, cardboard boxes, wrappings from Christmas presents, all kinds of paper are needed for containers for war purposes.

The collection plan as laid down by Chairman Joseph A. Hartman is to have trucks cover the city Saturday afternoon starting at 1 o'clock. Householders are asked to have their bundled paper on the curbs in front of their homes before noon, to have the paper bundled securely in bundles not exceeding 15 pounds.

Tie Securely

The necessity of tying the bundles securely is stressed. Bundles tied loosely break enroute to the box cars, and the paper companies receiving the waste paper cannot handle loose paper. Newspapers (Continued on Page Two)

Warmer Weather Is Due Friday

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Slightly warmer weather, accompanied by light snow, was promised the Western Pennsylvania area tomorrow by Weatherman W. S. Brotzman.

After a low of 10 degrees in the Pittsburgh district tonight, he said, temperatures will probably rise to about 30 tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Jap-occupied British naval base of Singapore was blasted in daylight today by a task force of American Super-Fortress bombers, and Tokyo reported that the Japanese capital also underwent renewed assaults during the night by B-29's.

Singapore, at the southern end of the Malay peninsula, was attacked by a force of India-based Super-bombers. The raid was the second by Yank sky Fortresses against the strategic naval base.

Three Destroyers Sunk In Typhoon

Report U. S. Fleet Suffers Loss In Storm In Western Pacific

SEVEN SMALLER CRAFT ALSO LOST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The number of U. S. naval vessels lost since the beginning of the war was raised to 254 today with the navy's announcement that three destroyers sank in a typhoon in the western Pacific while engaged in combat operations and seven smaller craft were destroyed by enemy action in the same war zone.

Only 84 men were rescued from the three destroyers—the 1,395-ton Hull, the 2,050-ton Spence and the 1,395-ton Monaghan—and the loss of life is estimated at more than 400. A number of other vessels suffered damage during the storm which developed with great rapidity and blew with "severe intensity."

Seven smaller ships lost recently in the Pacific were listed as four landing craft (LST), one motor torpedo boat, one small submarine chaser and one small auxiliary vessel.

No details were given on loss of the three destroyers, but the navy said all circumstances of the unusual disaster are being investigated. (Continued on Page Two)

Report Says Yanks Less Than 62 Miles From Manila Now

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Jan. 11.—Red Army forces advanced today to the outskirts of the Czech communications center of Komarno while Russian assaults units to the southeast plunged through 1,000 more blocks of doomed Budapest to gain control of three-fourths of the Hungarian capital.

The advance toward Komarno, on the north bank of the Danube, was made in the face of stiff German counter-attacks and carried the Russians through the large inhabited locality of Perbete. The Soviet forces cut the Komarno-Nove Zamky railway and whipped out the equivalent of a battalion of Nazi troops. Fierce fighting is now raging a little more than a mile from Komarno, some 50 miles from Bratislava, capital of the puppet Slovak government.

DAGUPAN, Luzon, Jan. 11.—Inhabitants of this beautiful little city which was wrecked by American sea and air bombardment in the mistaken notion that Japs still held it, still were able today to greet United States doughboys with the warm welcome of a liberated people.

Despite the destruction of the city and the deaths of more than a hundred persons, the Filipinos had smiles and blessings and in some instances, wine for the Americans.

"We waited a long time for you," they said.

Two Front War Shows Huge Power Of United States

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIGIE
(Written Especially For International News Service)

Not the least astonishing feature of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dramatic landing on Luzon, strategic island of the Philippines, is the index it supplies to the growing air-naval-military power of the United States.

No nation in history ever previously even has tried to wage war on two fronts separated by half the circumference of the globe. According to Gen. Ludendorff, chief military braintrust for the Kaiser in world war one, the need of maintaining two fronts licked Germany in 1914-18.

Yet the two fronts on which the Kaiser's armies were then obliged to fight, the Russian front and the old American-British-French western front, were only a few hundred miles apart.

Two Major Fronts

Today America is maintaining two major fronts on which United States troops are fighting, one in western Europe, the other in the Philippines, which are many thousands of miles apart. To feed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's armies requires a journey for munitions, food and supplies of approximately 5,000 miles. To get supplies to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces in the Philippines calls for transportation over a route from America's west coast down via the Pacific islands, of approximately 8,000 miles. To (Continued on Page Two)

'Fifth Column' In Philippines Aids MacArthur

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U. S. Foreign Editor)

The loyalty, courage and ingenuity of America's patriotic "fifth column" in the Philippines began to pay rich dividends today in vastly facilitating Gen. Douglas MacArthur's triumphant march toward Manila from his landing places on Luzon's Lingayen Gulf.

Diverting major attention from the European battlefield, where Nazi Field Marshal Karl Gerd von Rundstedt's salient was being whittled down remorselessly, the United States Sixth Army under field command of Lieut. Gen. Walter H. Krueger rolled down toward the west beyond the river Ourthe was withdrawn without enemy pressure and the town of St. Hubert was abandoned," the communique said.

To the southeast, however, additional Maginot line fortifications fell into the hands of the Wehrmacht, the statement added. (Continued on Page Six)

Germans Admit Some Withdrawals

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The German high command admitted today that Nazi troops in Belgium have made further withdrawals and abandoned the town of St. Hubert but claimed new gains along the Rhine-Colmar sector.

"To prop up the deep flanks of our salient in the Ardennes, the part of the salient which juts out to the west beyond the river Ourthe was withdrawn without enemy pressure and the town of St. Hubert was abandoned," the communique said.

To the southeast, however, additional Maginot line fortifications fell into the hands of the Wehrmacht, the statement added. (Continued on Page Six)

British On Last Lap To Mandalay

KANDY, Ceylon, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Complete withdrawal of the Japanese from Shwebo, key Burma railroad town only 50 air miles from Mandalay, today placed the British 14th army well on the last lap of its march to the Burma capital.

No major defense barrier before the Irrawaddy river remained between the 14th army and its goal.

Another valuable airfield fell into allied hands yesterday when Chinese first army troops recaptured the big strip four miles from Loi Wing, in the Shweli valley on the China-Burma border.

NEW MEMBER FOR "ONE-MAN ARMY"

WITH 95TH DIVISION ON THIRD ARMY FRONT, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Lt. Raymond J. Albano of Small, Idaho, was qualified today to join the growing list of America's one-man armies.

In eight days fighting, Albano killed 82 Germans and captured 21 enemy machineguns, two 88mm guns and two 20mm guns.

U. S. Troops Are Now Advancing Toward Manila

Major Clash With Jap Defenders Of Luzon Is Expected Soon

AIR BLOWS HAMPER JAP REINFORCING

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, On Luzon, Jan. 11.—United States Sixth Army Infantrymen, after capturing four Luzon towns and a vital airfield, plunged down the road toward Manila today from a solid 15-mile long beachhead on Lingayen Gulf and deployed for an expected major clash with Japanese troops being feverishly rushed up from prepared positions to the south.

Efforts of the enemy to reinforce his northern forces, however, were believed to have been struck a death blow with destruction of three vital bridges near the town of Calumpit, about 30 miles north of Manila.

Tie Up Main Road Network

Destruction of the bridges yesterday by Fifth Air Force attack bombers will tie up for an indefinite period the main road network from Manila north. Aerial observation indicated Tuesday that the enemy had vast mechanized troop reserves before his key transportation artery was wiped out and it is generally believed that the enemy's main defensive capabilities are isolated south of Calumpit.

Meanwhile, work already has begun on the Lingayen airfield while hundreds of shiploads of construction equipment are pouring ashore daily.

The latest Yank advances in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's showdown push to recapture the Philippines ranged from four to possibly more than 10 miles, with advanced spearheads of one division standing within 105 miles of strife-ridden Manila.

Little Opposition Yet

Still unopposed in any strength by the Japanese, the Americans linked up their four beachheads on the southern arc of Lingayen Gulf and (Continued on Page Two)

You folks who longed for an old fashioned winter are happy I take it, or should be I'd say, for winter this time is an old fashioned dinger, still cold and it's twenty-four, barely, today. The snow has been with us since early December and probably will be till way on in March and look for the days when the snow starts a-melting and the alleys are something like starch.

Prepare to take part in the waste paper collection here on Saturday. Do your share towards making the collection the greatest ever. The paper is a vital war need.

One thing in favor of crowded buses and irregular schedules—people have never before been provided with such unanswerable alibis for being late. The snow and cold have just given a little variety to them.

Pennsylvania motorists were reminded today by Revenue Secretary David W. Harris not to delay having their vehicles inspected before the January 31 deadline. "Car inspection, always regarded as a major safety precaution, has become more imperative as vehicles get older and cannot be replaced because of the war emergency," Harris said.

Says Services Need 900,000 In Next 6 Months

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—A selective service spokesman gave congress today the monthly breakdown on increased army-navy inductions showing that by March the army alone will be taking 100,000 men a month—many from the 26-29 age group for battle service.

Endorsing the May "Work or Fight" bill, Col. Francis V. Keeling, legislative representative of selective service, told the house military committee that to meet an armed forces need of 900,000 men in the next six months this schedule of draft calls is planned.

For the army, 80,000 men a month for the first two months, jumping to 100,000 men monthly for the following four months—a total of 560,000.

For the navy, 32,000 men monthly over the six-month period—a total of 192,000.

In addition the schedule includes estimated enlistments of 150,000 17-year-olds during the half-year.

Urges Immediate Action

Keeling joined Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson and Undersecretary of War Ralph A. Bard in urging immediate action on the pending bill.

The decision to indefinitely postpone hearings on peacetime universal training showed the determination of congress to act on pressing manpower legislation.

Keeling testified that May's "Work or Fight" measure, described by Patterson as a national service act for men only, covers eighteen million men not now in the armed forces.

He emphasized that the legislation, which would draft men into "special service units" of the military for use in war plants if they ignore employment calls, is in accord with the "voluntary" system of labor-management consultation now in effect.

The house committee headed by Rep. May (D) Ky., sponsor of the bill, got up a heavy head of steam in its drive toward early enactment of emergency legislation to force 4-F's into essential work. It heard war production chairman J. A. Krug and acting war manpower chairman Charles M. Hay, in addition to Patterson and Bard, endorse May's bill, with only minor reservations.

The sentiment of the committee majority was for speedy action. Patterson and Krug disclosed that in addition to the 900,000 men needed for military duty, an additional 700,000 men must be found for war production jobs in the next six months.

Major General Henry B. Saylor, chief army ordnance officer in the European theater of operations, recently estimated that to keep one GI fighting and well supplied with arms and ammunition requires the continuous supply of an average of 35 pounds of ordnance equipment per man per week.

FILIPINOS TELL OF FRANTIC EFFORT

of Pangasinan provincial hospital where many wounded Filipinos are patients, had no complaint and said only:

"It is too bad you could not know the Japanese had gone."

He took us on a tour of the hospital wards. On one bed lay a pregnant woman and her five-year-old daughter, both suffering from wounds.

"Happy You Came"
"My son died yesterday morning," the woman said. "Both his legs were off." Then she added, "I am happy you came."

Dr. Romulo explained that the Filipinos went to great efforts to try to inform the Americans that the Japs had fled the city.

"The Nipponese left many days ago," he said. "Three days ago your ships came into the gulf and began shelling. Airplanes flew over. Our people raised American flags, waved to the airplanes, tried to let you know there were no Japs in Dagupan. You did not understand."

"We even flew kites with signs on the tails saying 'no more enemy troops in Dagupan,' but you did not see," said young Romulo Villafra, an artillery captain in the Philippines army and once a captive of the Japs.

"I am happy you are finally here," Villafra continued. "Maybe I can work with 155 mm. guns again. I will be happy to see those again."

Reminders of America

Without Japs to fight, the Americans made the most of the Filipino welcome. On the street, seven or eight soldiers clustered around the best looking girl in town—at least if she isn't the best looking, this is a remarkable town.

Some soldiers accepted the offers of Filipino wine which the natives said is "almost as strong as your whiskey."

This city of 30,000 is closer to America than anything we saw on Leyte. Two Shell oil stations with familiar orange pumps were wrecked by bombs.

There were other reminders of America, even a stone church built in old English style, rather than the customary Spanish architecture of the Philippines.

Boy Scouts will accompany the trucks to pick up the paper and the committee hopes to have an adult on every truck in addition to the driver. Adults are also needed at the cars where the paper is loaded for shipment.

Trucks are being furnished thru the cooperation of the Lawrence county chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, and various merchants. Any one wishing to loan a truck for the day is asked to call J. Fred Clarke, president of the Lawrence county chapter, either at his place of business, 2756, before 6 o'clock or his home, 1905, after 6 o'clock.

Neshannock township will use the same collection station plan it has used in the past. Stations are located at the Fairview coal house, Larry McKnight's on the Graceland road, the Corcoran station at the corner of the Wilmington and Pulaski roads, Reed's store at Walmo and the Walmo and Clemmore school houses. Citizens are asked to have their bundled paper at these stations before noon Saturday and they will be picked up by trucks later in the afternoon.

U. S. TROOPS ARE NOW ADVANCING TOWARD MANILA

streamed inland for an average front-line gain of four miles while capturing Dagupan. San Fabian Mangaldan, Lingayne and the adjacent airfield at the latter gulf port.

(A dispatch from International News Service War Correspondent Clark Lee reported the capture of San Fabian and Lingayne several hours after MacArthur's liberating forces hit the Lingayne beaches at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, Philippines time.)

By nightfall, Lee reported, the unopposed Yanks much to the astonishment and delight of field commanders had driven 3 1/2 miles inland without encountering serious resistance. At this rate of advance the Americans were estimated to have scored gains up to 10 miles by Thursday morning, United States time.)

Move Across Flat Terrain

Troops landing southward from the beachhead which extends from San Fabian on the east to Lingayne on the southwest shore of the gulf, ploughed across flat terrain in the van of tank columns as big field pieces were moved into position for the anticipated all-out battle.

With inestimable tons of equipment, guns, tanks and supplies still pouring onto the beachhead from the mighty American convoy of 800 ships in Lingayne gulf, carrier planes of Vice Adm. Thomas Kinkaid's Seventh Fleet completely dominated the spectacular scene while Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney's army planes smashed Jap air defenses and lines of communication throughout Luzon.

(Strength of the ground assault forces put ashore was not given in any dispatches from the front, obviously for security reasons. An earlier dispatch from INS Correspondent Howard Handelman, however, said four divisions were launched in landing boats on D-day. Four divisions normally would total 60,000 men.)

"The enemy apparently was completely deceived by our landing in his rear at Lingayne rather than in his front on southern Luzon, and as yet has been unable to gather his forces to offer any serious resistance," Gen. MacArthur declared 48 hours after the initial landing.

"He is now feverishly bringing up troops from his prepared positions in the south," MacArthur added.

be known, but it was an error that meant death to all aboard.

A turn to the right would have carried the airliner out over the San Fernando valley and give it space in which to gain altitude to clear the mountains to the north.

The turn to the left headed it toward destruction in the Verdugo range. Approximately two minutes after the big plane passed over the air terminal field it crashed and was torn to bits on a mountainside five miles away, about 300 feet from the crest.

The ship struck with throttle open and at this high speed all aboard were killed instantly. Victims of the tragedy were 17 Army men, four Navy men and the crew of three. Names of the Army and Navy personnel were withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

SINGAPORE IS AGAIN BOMBED BY SUPERFORTS

separate sorties over Tokyo to droo incendiaries, according to a radio broadcast recorded by the FCC.

Similar raids 24 hours before were reported by the Jap radio.

The three B-29's appeared over Nippon's capital between 9 p. m. and 2:40 a. m. today, the Japs said, asserting that "there was no damage on our side."

The attack on Singapore was reported by the Jap Domei agency in an army headquarters communique which claimed two of the Superfortresses were shot down and 14 damaged.

The Japs said bombs were dropped on the Seletar district, at the eastern tip of Singapore island, as well as on the city area itself.

Large docks and naval installations are situated in the Seletar area.

The Domei dispatch monitored by Reuter asserted that scores of civilians were killed or wounded.

"Practically no damage was caused to military installations," according to a Domei account recorded by the FCC.

Batter Malay Peninsula

Announcement that Singapore was the target came several hours after headquarters of the 20th air force in Washington reported that a task force of B-29's had battered Jap military installations on the Malay peninsula.

Domei transmitted a communique issued by Jap headquarters at Singapore reporting the raid took place at 10:30 a. m. (9:50 p. m. Wednesday EWT.)

The raiders were said to have roared in over the key naval base one by one. The Japs said this occurred because Nipponese interceptor planes had forced the B-29's to break formation.

The communique asserted that "20 odd houses were demolished and scores of citizens killed or wounded in Singapore city as a result of the enemy's blind bombing."

Some injured skulls can be repaired by plates of tantalum, a rare metal which is strong, light and does not corrode.

Deaths of the Day

Joseph Germick

Joseph Germick, aged 64 years, of 33 Fulton street, died at his home Wednesday evening at nine o'clock.

Mr. Germick was born in Yugoslavia April 12, 1880. He resided here for 33 years. He was a retired Carnegie Steel worker, having been employed for 35 years. The deceased was a member of St. Joseph's church.

Surviving are his children: Mrs. George Richardson, Johnstown, Pa., and Mrs. Arthur Kimmel of this city, Pvt. George Germick, Washington, and Frank of this city, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at nine o'clock Saturday morning from the residence, followed by requiem high mass in St. Joseph's church at 9:30 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff in charge.

Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The body will be taken from the J. R. Noga funeral home to the residence late this afternoon.

Mrs. Mary G. Holt

Mrs. Mary Griffin Holt, aged 64 years, of Grassflat, Clearfield county, Pa., died this morning at 5:30 o'clock as the result of a stroke, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Millard Lund, 707 Highland avenue.

Mrs. Holt, daughter of the late Michael Griffin and Mary Griffin, was born in Peale, Pa. She was married to William Holt, who was deceased five years ago. Mrs. Holt was a member of the United Brethren church at Grassflat.

Survivors include the following children: Max Holt, Kentucky, Helen Holt and Mrs. Chester Rishel, both of Clearfield, Mrs. Verzil Patterline, DuBois, Robert Holt, Philadelphia, Pa., Millard Lund, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Fred Campmann, Youngstown, O. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Kate Gardner, New York; three brothers, John Griffin, Williamsport, Morris Griffin, Clearfield, and Michael Griffin, Clearfield; seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The body was removed to the Cunningham funeral home, East Washington and Chestnut streets, and was taken this afternoon to the Guy Johnson & Son funeral home, Grassflat.

Zuzov Funeral Time

Funeral services for Michael Zuzov, of 1803 Moravia street, will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, followed by a requiem mass, at 9:30 o'clock in St. Michael's church.

LONG CAMPAIGN IN PHILIPPINES STIMSON'S VIEW

Bases will be ours from which the Japanese in Indo-China, China, Formosa and Japan itself may be attacked.

Hit Jap Prestige

"Japan's prestige throughout Asia will have been dealt a fatal blow and the defeat we suffered from Japan's sudden attack in 1941 will have been wiped out in the cumulative progress of our uphill struggle. Already we are seeing one of the results of our advance on the Philippines in the withdrawal of the enemy lines in Burma."

Stimson emphasized that, despite the ease of the landing at Lingayne gulf the Japanese now can better concentrate their strength against the Yanks. The good roads and valley route which make the gulf a natural avenue for the attacker also helps the defender move and concentrate his troops swiftly, he said.

Contrasting the Jap position on Luzon with that of the American forces after Pearl Harbor, Stimson recalled that U. S. troops are operating at the end of a 6,000 mile supply line while the Japs are only 300 miles from Formosa and 1600 miles from the main home island of Japan.

He also noted that the enemy had long advance notice of the attack, have many troops and airfields which can readily be reinforced through at a heavy price and that they have substantial supplies there.

He said that the results of the Luzon landing are already being reflected in the withdrawal of Japanese lines in Burma where the British have captured the important case of Akyab.

TWO FRONT WAR SHOWS HUGE POWER OF UNITED STATES

be able to keep two major fronts going at such distances is almost a military miracle, a triumph over war's difficult science of logistics that would have been incredible a few years ago.

By the invasion of Luzon, America has proved conclusively that her resources are sufficient for carrying on the war at top speed in both Europe and Asia at once.

Follows Strategic Pattern

In making his first and presumably main landing in the strategic Lingayne gulf, Gen. MacArthur followed the strategic pattern of Philippine attack that was first worked out nearly forty years ago by early American forces of occupation, and put into practical operation by the Nipponese at the outbreak of the present war.

Press dispatches tell of American forces in the neighborhood of 100,000 strong concentrated for the Lingayne gulf landing. This is about the strength of fighting organizations employed on Leyte, where seven American divisions, having a total strength of approximately 105,000 were identified. Probably also, American landings will be made within the next few days in the Batangas area and somewhere in the neighborhood of Polillo bay, for their value in keeping the Japanese guessing.

Japanese forces facing MacArthur are generally estimated as considerably exceeding his own in numbers.

In the last analyses, the battle for Luzon will be decided by the battle for supplies. Only way the Japanese can cut the American supply-lines is by a last-ditch fight of Nippon's main fleet, and a major defeat of Uncle Sam's navy. With the Japanese Navy apparently hiding in the Sea of Japan, that doesn't seem probable.

Statements and opinions herein are private to the writer and are not to be construed as reflecting the views of the Navy dept.

34 DIVISIONS IN 'BULGE'

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 11.—(INS)—German frontier reports quoted today by the Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said that the Nazis still have 34 divisions in the Shrunken Belgian-Luxembourg bulge which was said to have been reduced in width at some points to as little as six miles.

than transports, believing if they knocked out carriers, battleships and cruisers we either would be forced to flee or would be so crippled that the transports easily could be sunk by Jap air and fleet units, sailing from Indo China.

"We came in expecting the gulf to be mined and many shore batteries in position," Oldendorf said. "That was what the Japs had planned to do but hadn't had time."

"The whole story was we hit sooner than they believed possible. They hadn't a chance to finish their defenses, plant mines and bring in submarines."

Real Surprise Of War

American leaders were agreed that the failure of the Japs to oppose the Lingayne landings was the biggest surprise of the Pacific war. The Japs apparently were unprepared or unwilling to face the American power which was mustered in the gulf and from Philippines on the shore it was learned that the crushing pre-invasion warship and rocket barges forced the Jap garrison to flee from the town of Lingayne January 4.

Pushing ahead without opposition, the American assault forces during the first day occupied the towns of Dagupan, Lingayne, Mangaldan and San Fabian.

The largest group of Jap soldiers encountered numbered only 11 and our casualties for the first day probably were under 50.

It is probable that the Jap commanders decided some days ago that they could not hold the Lingayne beach because shore installations on which work had begun were not yet completed. The Japs obviously thought they had plenty of time to prepare their land defenses, not dreaming that MacArthur's strategy was calculated on such speedy advances from his Southwest Pacific bases.

Speculation On Jap Defense

What form Jap resistance will take as the Americans push farther inland can only remain a matter for speculation until the real battle for Luzon is joined.

Our troops advanced on an average of up to three and a half miles by dusk of the first day, fording rivers in amphibious vehicles or crossing bridges which the fleeing Japs only partially had smashed.

In the rear of the assault troops, a constant stream of tanks, anti-tank guns, and other equipment poured ashore from landing craft which did not let even darkness interrupt their work as they piled from ship to shore and back using lights in defiance of the Jap air force.

The Jap air force apparently is unable to mount any large scale attack.

TWINS ARE BORN 54 HOURS APART

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Twin daughters born 54 hours apart gave Mr. and Mrs. Julius Fuca of Brooklyn the odd distinction today of having become parents twice within two days. The mother and her infants are coming along fine and at last reports the father was recovering fast from the strain.

Mrs. Fuca gave birth to a five-pound girl Monday morning, but the second did not arrive until yesterday afternoon—a medical occurrence of considerable rarity although not without precedent. Said Mrs. Fuca, 27-year-old wife of a chauffeur, when it was all over: "Thank goodness!"

gated by a court of inquiry convened by Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet.

A thorough search of the area where the ships were lost was conducted over a period of days by aircraft and surface vessels. Rescued in the course of these searches were the commanding officer of the Hull, Lieut. Comdr. James A. Marko of Washington, D. C., four of his officers and 49 of his men.

Twenty-four of the personnel of the supply corps, were saved, while only six of the personnel aboard the Monaghan were rescued.

HONEYMOON SHOWER HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

A "honeymoon shower" was tendered Miss Carol Boyd, bride-elect of Saturday, January 13, when Miss Sara (Bunny) Reitz delightedly entertained at her home, 710 Neshannock boulevard, Wednesday evening, a gathering of close friends of the bride.

Contract bridge was the pastime top score trophies falling to Miss Mildred Jones and Miss Shirley Hanna. The serving of a delicious repast was the following feature, guests being seated at a large table prettily appointed in pastel colors. Mrs. Hattie Reitz aided her daughter.

An array of lovely personal gifts were presented to Miss Boyd, at the close of the evening.

At 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, Miss Boyd will become the bride of R. Edward Olson, petty officer 2-c of the U. S. Navy, at an "open church" ceremony, in St. Mary's.

EAST SIDE GARDEN CLUB HAS LUNCHEON

East Side Garden club members were entertained at their initial 1945 luncheon event in the home of Mrs. C. R. Brenner, Huron avenue, Wednesday afternoon. "Name and describe a beauty spot in Pennsylvania" was given in answer to roll call.

A tasty menu was served at 1 o'clock from an attractive arranged table, with Mrs. E. L. Davenport and Mrs. Leonard Cramer presiding.

Mrs. Clarence Kimmel was welcomed on this occasion, and Mrs. Ralph Carroll was a special guest. A unique display of hand-made articles, canned goods and baked delicacies was a program highlight, which were auctioned off to the membership at the close of the afternoon. Gratifying yearly reports were contributed during the brief business period.

A quiz on flowers was conducted by Mrs. C. R. Brenner, with Mrs. Harold Ferver winning the prize. Next meeting, February 14, will be in the form of a St. Valentine party with Mrs. Walter Kelly, Norwood avenue, hostess, instead of Mrs. Ferver as originally scheduled.

Ritz Club

Mrs. James Bongiovanni of Glass street received the Ritz club Wednesday evening in her home.

Contests were enjoyed, prizes going to Mrs. Curtis Guckert and Mrs. Albert DePalma.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, with the aid of her two daughters, Mary and Martha. January 24 is the meeting with Mrs. Anthony Panella of Bank street.

B. P. W. CLUB HEARS DR. JOHN COLEMAN

Business and Professional Women's club met Wednesday evening for dinner at 5:45 in the guild hall of Trinity Episcopal church.

B. P. W. education committee was in charge of the program for the evening. Members of the committee are: Miss Nannie Mitchell, Mrs. Sara Sankey McCune, Miss Lucile Lutton, Miss Elizabeth Breslin, Miss Margaret Garvin, Miss Anna Leonhart, Miss Mary Ramsey and Miss Laura Stevenson.

Dr. John Coleman of Geneva college, speaker of the evening, was introduced by Miss Mitchell.

He had as his subject, "Job Opportunities for Women". War, he pointed out, opens the doors to women for employment in nearly all fields. Just at present it is not a question of jobs for women but women for jobs. A late figure gives 18,000,000 as the number of women employed.

"Whether women will continue to combine homemaking with careers as so many are doing at present is up to them," he said.

Announcements included one by Miss Alice Sterling of the International Relations Discussion group at the Y. W. C. A. at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, January 17, when Mrs. Ruth Hiborn will review the first chapters of the book "On the Threshold of World Order".

Executive committee meeting of the club will be held on January 24 at 7:30 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A.

Wednesday, February 14, is the date for the next meeting of the club and will be in the form of a Valentine party with the public affairs committee, of which Mrs. Bertha Smith is chairman, in charge.

WOMEN OF MOOSE PLANS FOR JAN. 15

Women of the Moose have plans completed for their meeting on Monday, January 15, when they will welcome as a special guest and speaker, Mrs. Anna Patton, state officer of the W. O. M. T. M.

On this date, Academy of Friendship chapter night will be observed, with the chairman, Mrs. Margaret Mackey, in charge. A class of candidates will be initiated and a social time will follow with lunch served. Committee on refreshments includes Mesdames Della Miller, Rose Bishop, Georgia Young, Mary Cox and Margaret Mackey.

The event was outlined at their holiday party held recently in the form of a candlelight dinner program. Places were arranged for nearly 60 guests. Senior Regent Mary Caravella offered the invocation. Mrs. Margaret Metz presented Mrs. Caravella with a gift from the membership. Also, co-workers, officers, escorts and charlatades were remembered with mementos.

NORTH BEAVER CLUB JANUARY ASSEMBLY

North Beaver Garden club members were received in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Andrews, Mt. Jackson, Wednesday evening, who entertained informally at their January session.

Mrs. Clarence Shumaker, program chairman, introduced the following participants: Mrs. William Davis who spoke on "Modern Freezers for Food"; Mrs. F. Bradley talked on "What we can do to hasten and preserve peace"; Howard Butler addressed the assembly on "Raising Celery" and conducted an open discussion on "Asparagus Beds". In closing, Arthur Walker showed moving pictures pertaining to "Outdoor Life".

In February, the membership will have "Birthdays Night" at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bradley, Mt. Jackson, with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Andrews, co-hosts.

E. S. 500 Club
Mrs. William McBride of East Washington street was hostess to the E. S. 500 club members in her home Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. Zajac and daughter Linda as special guests.

In cards, Mrs. G. Hoagland and Mrs. James McCullough were awarded prizes. The serving of tasty refreshments followed play.

In two weeks Mrs. James McCullough, East Washington street, will entertain.

WIMODAUSIS OPENS NEW YEAR CALENDAR

Wimodausis club members numbering 80 gathered for their initial 1945 luncheon-meeting in the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Wednesday afternoon, January 10. Mrs. A. L. Thayer and Mrs. Grif Thomas, co-hostesses, were largely responsible for the enjoyable event.

Aiding the hostesses with the deliciously prepared menu were Mrs. Alex Mathieson, Mrs. John Kennehan, Mrs. Bert Piliant, Mrs. Catherine Johns, Mrs. Edith Ross, Mrs. Andy White and Mrs. Carl Gaston.

The assemblage later adjourned to the east lodge room where entertainment was provided. Mrs. Emerson Davis as program, chairman presented Mrs. M. M. Ingham, who delighted with several piano selections, and Mrs. John Ingham, who contributed original verses and poems.

Selections heard included "The Lament of a Rose", "Romance", "The Butterfly", "The Weather", "Today" and "A Prayer For Peace". Both artists showed rare talent in their presentation.

Plans were discussed for the annual Wimodausis party to feature the February calendar, date and committee to be announced. Regular meeting, however, is scheduled for February 14, followed by a tea with Mrs. John Haven as chairman. She will be aided by executive board members.

T. G. S. CLUB PARTY FOR RECENT BRIDE

Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Jane Latona, North Meriden street, members of the T. G. S. club gathered for an informal party honoring one of their associates, Mrs. Charles Hugh, nee Anethia Sweet, a bride of recent date.

The occasion was in the nature of a "honeymoon shower" with a collection of personal gifts being presented to the guest of honor.

Dancing and a varied program of pastimes claimed attention, awards going to Miss Ethel Jay, Mrs. Charles Hugh and Miss Donna Jean Flynn. The serving of a delicious repast brought the evening to a close.

The honoree is an employee of the Bell Telephone Company, and her husband, Charles, is stationed at Camp Endicott, Providence, Rhode Island, with the Sea-Bees.

February meeting of the club will be with Miss Mary Ruth Turner, 836 Arlington avenue.

HARBOR GARDEN CLUB HAS MEETING

Harbor Garden club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Herman Byler, The Harbor, on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock with a good attendance present. Mrs. Florence Gwin presided.

Members responded to roll call with an account of "Places of Interest I Have Visited".

New Words, Same Tune

A month ago Japanese Premier Koiso described the Philippine Islands as "a vital area which must be held secure." Later he declared the fighting in the Philippines would "decide the trend of the war." And now comes Masanori Ito, a Japanese military commentator, with the statement that "even though she should lose the Battle of the Philippines, Japan would not lay down her arms."

Well, nobody expects Japan to lay down her arms if she loses the Philippines. The Japanese apparently have to learn their lessons the hard way and the Allied board of strategy plans to hold class exactly along those lines. But the sequence of the three statements above is interesting. It almost looks as if Japanese military experts are trying to discount defeat. Certainly it's a far cry from that arrogant business about dictating peace terms in the White House.

But no matter how many statements are made by Japanese military experts or how much they may seek to discount the loss of this or that battle, the United States is committed to the policy of carrying the war to the Japanese homeland and enforcing Japan's unconditional surrender. There is no tendency to minimize the toughness of that job, but neither is there any doubt that that is the way the war will be won.

Coast To Coast Cars

Ever since the first transcontinental railroad was completed, people have wondered when it would be possible to cross the United States from coast to coast in an uninterrupted train trip. This may be a postwar innovation.

Officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio, who have taken the initiative, are negotiating with western railroads to set up a through route, with no halt at Chicago and Saint Louis, now the breaking points of cross-country train travel. There is an added urge to adopt this innovation because of competition from other forms of transport, especially the airplane.

C. E. Newton, president of the C. & O., says: "Transcontinental passenger services have been proposed in the past, but for a variety of reasons none has ever been established. The C. & O. lines place high on their agenda of postwar aims the objective of cooperating in the establishment of transcontinental through passenger service in collaboration with western lines. We do not believe that the obstacles are insuperable."

If the average person had been under the impression that transcontinental passenger service had long since been established, it would not be necessary for him to change his thinking in this respect if Mr. Newton has his way.

Two Wedges

Whether the German offensive has been entirely contained by Allied counter-measures will be evident in the next few days on the front south of the present bulge into Belgium. The Third and Seventh armies had pushed a deep bulge of their own into Germany east of Nancy and Metz. The Germans attacked on the northern flank of that bulge, and the Seventh Army rectified its lines because of the pressure. The Third Army had previously given up positions and transferred its strength to the southern flank of the Rundstedt spearhead.

If the Germans succeed in permanently pushing back the American spearhead pointing toward Karlsruhe on the Rhine, it will eliminate a danger to them. By regrouping their forces, the Allies there would be in position to drive northward down the Rhine corridor toward Frankfurt, threatening the entire Rundstedt position.

This is a picture of both sides trying to eliminate wedges driven into the lines of the other. If one side can maintain its offensive wedge while eliminating the offensive wedge of the opposing side, it will be a heavy advantage in the winter warfare to come.

In this the Allies have the advantage of superior resources. The hard fighting to come will convert those resources into further progress toward final victory.

Living Outdoors

The bitter weather that has prevailed over a large part of the country lately has been a good thing in one respect, at least. It has set a large number of Americans to thinking seriously and sympathetically about corresponding conditions in war areas.

It was natural to assume that our fighting men were warm enough in the South Seas, anyway. But inquiry has developed the fact that in many parts of the European and other fronts it is very different. Millions of Americans have been living outdoors under conditions not very different from our midwestern weather at this time of year, and will continue doing so throughout the winter.

Yes, they get toughened to it, more or less. But it might be a good thing if a few Americans here at home who regard themselves as pretty tough hombres would try living and sleeping outdoors, on the ground or in shallow dugouts this time of year. With all the clothing they could assemble, liberally lined with old newspapers, they wouldn't think it was much fun, even without an enemy unduly complicating the situation.

England And France

Newspaper forecasts that France looked forward to early agreement with Britain on all major problems were premature. It does not follow that because France achieved a code with Russia for the conduct of both, Paris is prepared to adopt a program with London.

The chief reason is that the problems that mutually concern France and Russia are continental, including the purpose of both countries to prevent a new German menace from arising in the future. The problems that concern France and Britain have to do mostly with France's future status as a colonial power.

What is London's position to be toward the revival of French sovereignty in Indo-China, in parts of Africa and its supervision in Syria? France undoubtedly will reassert itself in the colonial field, but it faces the necessity of adjusting its ambitions to Britain's desires. And that is a matter that can be worked out in the months to come.

American undersea boats have sunk more than 1,000 Jap ships since the war started. They may be out of sight, but they are not out of mind so far as the Nips are concerned.

Bringing Lincoln down to date, it might be said: "God must love the little leftists since there are so many of them in the liberated countries." Or perhaps they merely sound like many.

State Department Budget Increases

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—"The budget of the United States government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1946," is a book that weighs more than the fattest telephone directory, which is not surprising, since it prescribes the spending, for war and peace of some 83 billions of dollars.

On Pages 581 to 600, the Department of State puts in its request for $75,213,400, including an increase of $28,462,812 over the fiscal year 1945. The increase is to provide for Secretary of State Stettinius' program of expansion and modernization of a department that has limped along about a hundred years behind the times.

That has been one of the strange contrasts of our era. The Department of State is, in effect, the Department of Peace. Its first objective is to maintain good relations with the other nations of the world.

Yet year after year, Congress has treated it like a stepchild. In the light of this record of miserliness, I imagine Stettinius hesitated about asking for even as much as that $28,000,000 increase.

The increase will go mainly to expand the foreign service in the field and to build up the department's information service both at home and abroad. Only a small amount will be available to add to the permanent force at work in Washington.

There is a real question, if a thorough job of modernization is to be done, whether the additional amount requested will be adequate. Recently I have been given a worm's eye view of the department by those who have been working under great handicaps in a horse and buggy atmosphere.

Officials have been handicapped by a lack of stenographic help to do routine work. The filing system is so antiquated as to seem ludicrous to anyone familiar with modern business techniques. As the White House moved assistants into the Department of State building, less and less space has been available, so that division chiefs have had to talk to ministers and ambassadors in a crowded room.

This may sound like trivia. It seems to me to be important. You sometimes get the impression the department was back in the days when the ambassador signed his name with a flourish and then dusted sand over the signature because no one had got around to thinking up blotting paper.

Consider the burden that will fall on the Department of State this year. The task in hand now is to prepare the data to support the position which President Roosevelt takes when he sits down with Churchill and Stalin at their forthcoming meeting.

That in itself is a big job. It means covering the whole field of foreign and economic relations. When the President turns to an assistant to ask what the oil production in the Middle East is, or the number of Rumanians living in Bessarabia, the information given him must be exact and current.

Then the expectation is for a full-fledged meeting of the United Nations to consider action on a world security plan. That will require endless planning and effort.

In addition, other conferences are in progress or shortly coming up. Most of us have little understanding of the preparation that precedes these international meetings. We see the news reels of the gentlemen shaking hands or exchanging the official baquet and assume too often that that is the whole story.

You get some interesting contrasts in the fat volume on the budget. Whereas the State Department takes fewer than 20 pages to list its requests, Secretary of the Interior Ickes runs 140 pages to itemize demands for more than $100,000,000. The Department of Agriculture adds up to a total of $378,930,050.

Economists in Congress may be able to pare some non-war expenditures, although in comparison to the grand total for war they will be only candle ends. But there should be no hesitation in granting the State Department this reasonable increase.

ASSISTANCE

Fame has its arrogant, and riches its pride. Make proud and favored few, As if the purse could taken be aloft And used, as mortals do.

Yet as with men upon a ship at sea When threatening storms arise, Riches and fame both helpless prove to be.

All turn to seamen wise.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:52. Sun rises tomorrow 8:24.

Important details are hard to get these days.

Patriotic people feel they should owe something to their country. That's why they don't like to pay income tax.

War starts by paying off old debts and ends by paying new debts.

It is only a question of time until every pedestrian will have a car or wings.

Another very annoying way to live is just beyond your income.

SHARE YOUR IDEAS
If you have an idea and I have an idea, we each have one idea. But if we share our ideas, we'll each have two ideas instead of one.

Your idea may not be as good as the other fellow's but he can use your ideas and you can use his. So, never be afraid to express your ideas and exchange them with others.

He may not like your idea, and you may not like his but if you get the habit of thinking ideas, you'll improve and so will the other fellow.

When one word leads to another it's a good scheme to lag behind a little.

Don't worry about political difference in America—it is political indifference that can wreck this nation.

For those who can profit by their experience, failure is a much better teacher than success.

The science of genealogy tells us that a girl gets her evil habits from her grandfather on her mother's side and that a boy is a saint or sinner according to the moral fiber of his father's mother.

Dad: Teach your son to have an aim... a definite objective and to stick to it until he achieves his goal.

Then, no matter how little or how much school book learning he gets, he will become a man of good character... a good citizen... and he'll have a real chance to become successful.

Hope causes you to bite off more than you can chew, and fear sets in and makes you choke trying to swallow it.

Many weekend visitors take their hostess a gift along with them or send it after they have returned home. This should never be of a very expensive nature, but something small, such as handkerchiefs, toilet water, gloves, etc., etc. Never take any gift or even a box of candy to a formal or informal dinner in the home of even an intimate friend. Such gifts are permissible as stated, only at what we call "family" dinners.

The best form of appreciation is with an invitation to your house to dinner, luncheon or an evening party. A "thank you" letter is necessary only after an all-night visit; never after a dinner or supper party.

"Pacific offensive postponed; Germans didn't give up as Roosevelt expected." No plan is safe if based on optimism.

Somebody down at Washington has revived the idea of pensions for congressmen who retire or are defeated for re-election.

The suggestion seems to be superfluous. From the number of soft jobs handed to lame ducks, and the even greater number of congressional ex's who are in the lobbying game, there is no need to worry about the has-beens.

A personal letter sometimes reaches you with all the earmarks of having been carried several days before it was mailed, but a bill never does.

BRINGING HOSTESS GIFT

"It is necessary for a guest to bring the hostess a gift at every visit. I have a friend who always brings a box of candy with her whenever she goes to anyone's home to dinner. This seems silly and unnecessary to me. Also is a 'thank you' letter essential after a dinner invitation? Am I wrong?"

Answer: It really isn't necessary to bring the hostess a gift, even for a weekend visit and certainly not for a dinner or for merely an evening visit. A guest going occasionally to the home of a friend for a "family" dinner might very correctly bring along a box of candy, which I am sure would delight the hostess. This gesture is especially appreciated by children of the household. Flowers are also a very acceptable gift for such an occasion.

See Labor Leaders Standing In The Road

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—THE OPPOSITION of the professional labor leaders to the National Service Act, request for which is the core of the message which the President sent to Congress and eloquently explained to the American people last Saturday, is viewed by some as an illustration of their selfishness and insincerity.

IT SEEMS to justify the charge that they put their own interests ahead of the national interests; that rather than yield an advantage, they are prepared to nullify, if they can, the judgment of the responsible military and naval authorities, supported by the Commander in Chief, of what is essential to winning the war. Theirs is a position that ought to arouse indignation all over the country. If the President and our military leaders are right, national-service legislation will hasten victory and save the lives of uncounted American boys. If they are right—and there is every reason to think so—then should the attitude of the labor leaders prevail, the war will be lengthened and thousands of our soldiers and sailors will die unnecessarily.

IN THIS matter no one will question that Mr. Roosevelt and his military advisers are in an infinitely better position to know the facts and base a judgment than the labor leaders. No one will contend that in this matter they have either a personal or political concern. On the contrary, it is entirely clear that they have come to their decision about national service—particularly, the President—with great reluctance and that only the inescapable conviction that it is the one way to shorten the war compels them to urge it. Under these circumstances, the labor-leader opposition is an indefensible thing and it leaves these men in an extremely ugly light indeed.

IT WOULD be different if there were any other effective opposition or any good reasons for opposing. The truth is that but for these labor leaders this law, which the President, the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, General Marshall, Admiral King, the Under Secretary of War and Navy, and nearly every man upon whom rests military responsibility in this war, is essential to its quick conclusion—but for these labor leaders there would be slight question of its passage. Aside from them the opposition is ineffectual. There are, of course, members of Congress who sincerely doubt the necessity of the law and are thus willing to put their judgment against that of the chiefs of staff and the Commander in Chief.

The Parent Problem

SISTER RESENTS BROTHER'S SUCCESS

My dear Dr. Myers: I have a girl 11 and a boy 10 years of age. They are each healthy normal children—and up until the past year, have been wonderful pals—not caring to play with other children particularly.

"They still enjoy playing together at times but most of the time they quarrel. They seem to delight in setting each other up. I feel that I must be to blame in some way but I am at a loss to know what to do about the continual fussing. It seems to be worse since the boy has been promoted to the same grade as the girl.

While she does not seem to resent his being in her room, or catching up with her, I wonder if it is because they are together too much, by being in the same class. They help each other with school work, saving each other from being scolded. I feel that I must be to blame in some way but I am at a loss to know what to do about the continual fussing. Baby Taken To Hospital By Plane Now Recovering

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Eight-month-old Tommy Magill, flown from Philadelphia to Boston for an operation to remove an intestinal obstruction, was reported "in good condition" today at Children's hospital.

Tommy and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Magill, had top priorities on the plane. The father carried two cardboard containers with a specially prepared formula. The airliner was two hours late in arriving in East Boston. It was delayed in New York while making connections with a commercial plane which by special permission of the Civil Aeronautics board made a landing at a closed airport in Philadelphia to pick up the Magills, residents of Leola, Pa.

Soldiers Must Have Mileage Record For Gasoline Application

Soldiers who wish to obtain gasoline coupons for gasoline while they are home on furlough must bring their mileage ration records with them, as well as their furlough papers, an announcement from the rationing office said today.

These mileage ration records were attached to the "A" books sent out the first of the year, and must be presented by anyone who is making application for supplemental gasoline.

Five Art Students Win Poster Contest

Five senior high school art students have taken prizes in the annual safety poster contest sponsored by the United Commercial Travelers of America.

First prize was won by Anna Lou General, 930 South Mill street; second prize went to Jeanne Brindley, 403 North Jefferson street; third prize to Eileen Waslinger, 409 Nesbitt street; fourth prize to Ruth Ann Lampier, 211 Fairmont avenue; and fifth prize went to Joann Norman, 213 West Pittsburg.

Over 40 posters were entered in this exhibit of the work of the students of Miss Bess Gailey. The United Commercial Travelers are also sponsoring a drive to have school buses throughout the United States painted red, white and blue so that they will be easily recognized.

The next meeting of the New Castle council of the organization will be Saturday evening, January 13, when action will be taken on the group's new project of sponsoring a public singing school.

Oppose Military Training Move

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Opposition to compulsory peacetime military training was voiced by delegates today in a resolution adopted by the society of farm women of Pennsylvania.

"This very system is the one thing that made possible the miserable dictatorship abroad," the resolution stated. "For this country peacetime conscription is unnecessary, unjust and un-American."

Other resolutions approved embraced a request for draft boards to exempt farmers and farm hands from military service, more liberal sugar allowances by the OPA, the placing of a "floor as well as a ceiling" on eggs and poultry.

There will be a meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock for the Sodality of Our Lady of St. Mary's church, in the church basement and officers will be installed.

Seventh Ward

LADIES AID GROUP

ELECTS OFFICERS

Wednesday, members of the Ladies Aid society of the Wilson Avenue Christian church had a three-course dinner in the dining room of the church at 12:30 with 15 present.

Mrs. Ada Robinson gave the invocation. Hostesses were Mrs. I. D. Wagner, Mrs. C. J. Bernhart and Mrs. E. A. Jones.

Mrs. Bernhart was in charge of business session, when plans were made to sew for the Red Cross, with the following committee: Mrs. Howard Snyder, Mrs. Ada Robinson and Mrs. Stephen Hutnick. There was an election of officers as follows: Mrs. George Huff, president; Mrs. Clyde Shaw, vice-president; Mrs. Stephen Hutnick, secretary; Mrs. Howard Snyder, assistant; Mrs. I. D. Wagner, treasurer; Mrs. J. B. Bumbach, assistant.

Next social meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Hammond North Lafayette street, February 14.

WOLF PATROL GROUP

ELECTS OFFICERS

At the home of John Pappaanni of 1000 West Clayton street, members of the Wolf Patrol Boy Scouts were entertained on Wednesday evening.

The following officers were elected at the business session: Edward Parks, patrol leader; Andrew Sandberg, assistant; John Pappaanni, treasurer; Jerome Thayer, scribe; Robert Kert, hikemaster; Robert Parks, cook.

John Pappaanni entertained with accordion selections, and games were played. The host's mother served splendid refreshments.

Next meeting will be Monday evening.

Forum Sunday At Methodist Church

Sunday afternoon's forum at 4:30 will bring to the Mahoning Methodist church Rev. C. S. V. Bowman, pastor of St. John's Protestant Episcopal church of Sharon.

The theme of his address will be "The Protestant Episcopal Church Answers the Call to War Service." He will speak of the U.S.O. work in connection with Camp Reynolds.

COLLECT WASTE PAPER SATURDAY

On Saturday, there will be a collection of waste paper in the ward, the proceeds from which will be for the benefit of the hospital funds.

Residents are asked to tie up the bundles securely and not weighing more than 15 pounds each. Card-board, newspapers, and magazines should be packed separately.

Boy Scouts and members of the OCD will do the collecting. Richard Davis will represent the OCD group. Bundles should be placed outside the residences in conspicuous places by noon.

BACK FROM ATLANTIC

Dan Ryan, Seaman First Class, is on thirty days leave visiting with his mother, Mrs. Amelia Ryan and family, of 12 Montgomery avenue. He has been overseas for one year in the Atlantic area, and was in the Normandy and Southern France invasions. He sailed from Cardiff Wales, which he enjoyed visiting. Dan has been in the service almost two years.

S. C. W.'s MEET TONIGHT

Mrs. J. J. Cunningham, of West Clayton street, will be hostess this evening, to members of the S. C. W. Bible class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church. Mrs. A. R. Morries and Mrs. Walter Grischke will be associate hostesses.

BOY SCOUTS TONIGHT

At the Mahoning Methodist church members of the Boy Scout troop V-4 will gather this evening in the social room at 7 o'clock.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Joseph Harvan of 207 Newell avenue has returned to his home from the New Castle hospital.

T. J. LaRock of 511 West Madison avenue, who has been ill at his home, is much improved.

Walter Hays, cook at Fort Meade, Md., is visiting at the home of his nephew, Walter Hays, Newell avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Peluso and infant son of 721 Maple street have been returned to their home from the New Castle hospital.

Mrs. Blanche Hassig of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

John, son of Rev. and Mrs. Warren A. Bugbee of West Clayton street, has been returned to his home from the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he was under observation.

Antwerp, Belgium, was one of the places from which news letters (the newspapers of that time) were issued in the 16th century.

New Bids Are Asked On School Property

Advertisements asking for bids upon the property of the New Castle public school district at the corner of North Jefferson street and Grant street were authorized Wednesday night, January 10, when the board of directors met in the administration building in East street.

This is the second time bids have been asked for the property, the first time having brought one bid, that of the William Milson Company for $25,000 which was rejected. The matter was brought before the board Wednesday night by Director Robert L. Preston who said he thought this was a fair bid.

A general discussion followed in which the directors placed various values upon the property, some of them running as high as $35,000. An average value by the board seemed to approximate $27,500. The property is that formerly occupied by the Martin Gantz school. At present it is leased to William Milson Company. There is a house on the Grant street side of the property which is rented.

Two Of Mail Plane Crew Are Injured

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Two crew members of an All-American Aviation Mail plane were in the Westmoreland hospital today after their ship crashed in Unity township, Westmoreland county.

The pilot, Albert Holstrom, 32, of Mt. Lebanon, father of three, was in a critical condition, hospital attendances reported. He suffered a fractured skull and other injuries. Cecil Linsar, flight mechanic, 30, of Brentwood, suffered a punctured lung, fractured ribs and lacerations. State police said the crash occurred as the plane was circling after it had missed a pickup at the Loretto airport. A first-aid crew from Greensburg Volunteer Fire department extricated Holstrom from the wrecked plane, police said.

The men were on a scheduled flight from Harrisburg to Pittsburgh.

Await Report Of School Expert

The question of retaining Dr. John Guy Fowlkes, whose survey of the school district is about completed, in an advisory capacity was raised at the meeting of the school board last night.

This service would include a specialist in reading, in English, in science in physical education and health and in extra-curricular activities, to work with the teachers in the system for several weeks. The cost would be $6,000. The board decided they wanted to hear Dr. Fowlkes report before committing itself to any more service.

Petty Officer 1-c Jack Duffy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Duffy, 1216 South Mill street, has returned to Rhode Island after spending a 30-day furlough with his parents and his wife. Serving aboard a PT boat, P-O Duffy took part in the invasion of southern France and was in action around the island of Elba and in the Gulf of Genoa. Quartermaster 2-c George A. Miles, RD 3, was in the same unit.

Thomas Frabotta, S 2-c, has notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mario Frabotta of 702 Wilmington avenue, that he has been transferred from Great Lakes to music school in Washington, D. C.

Plan Discussion Of School Survey

Directors of the New Castle school board could hardly expect overtime for the session Wednesday night, January 10. Shortly after 10 o'clock the meeting adjourned after some routine business had been transacted and arrangements made for a special informal meeting with Dr. John Guy Fowlkes Sunday afternoon, January 14, to discuss his recent survey of the school system.

Bills in the amount of $6,287.43 were approved.

The board agreed to permit the use of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school swimming pool by the recreation council upon the same basis as the George Washington pool is now used.

Some Features Of City Appropriations For Year

City Council has appropriated $738,227 to operate the city this year. It is only an estimate of what the city dads believe necessary. Some amounts appropriated already have been mentioned as being too low (1) $350 for repair of the garbage plant, and (2) $200 for rent of equipment for the streets department. Included in the $738,227 there is a $60,000 bond issue, floated in 1944, according to the solons. It is probable another $70,000 bond issue for the disposal plant may be issued.

Some of Appropriations

Here are a few rays of light on the appropriations:

City solicitor's assistant, $1,200. Salary of dog catcher, $1,233.60. The city receives a rebate according to the number of dog ears sent to its estate. The city proposes to buy and maintain a horse for $500 and must get a wagon to be driven by the dog catcher.

Some clerks are paid more than $1,200 annually.

Municipal garage, $10,415, of which $600 is designed for materials and supplies. There is considerable work "fanned out" because the city's municipal garage is not equipped to cause such work to be done.

School watchmen, $5,280. They work when schools convene and adjourn. The city has no radio technician employed regularly. When the city had one he was paid a policeman's salary. For the radio this year $1,000 has been appropriated. This is for the servicing of the radio and necessary parts.

Parking meters, $2,625. No doubt this is for the salary and repairs to the system, which brings the city $25,000. However, it might be reported that every day turn policeman in the parking meter district devotes a big part of his time to policing the meters. It actually costs more than $2,625 for the meters when the police work, required is considered.

Permitting appraiser, $850. The city realizes about $25,000.

Vehicle parts for the police cars call for $900, and $4,000 has been earmarked for motor equipment. So far the city has not decided to procure new automobiles. There is likelihood the city will spend the money for some cars.

For Laundry Bills

Laundry bills for the various fire stations will cost the city $300.

Liability and property damage to fire equipment and buildings will cost $300.

The city will pay $450 to volunteer fire companies. This is an annual custom.

The city pays the sealer of weights $1,056 and the other portion of his salary comes from the county. He is a joint employee.

The health bureau cost is estimated at $8,138.20, which should be offset considerably by examinations of food and beverage dispensers, who must undergo an examination twice annually at $1.00 per examination.

It is estimated at least $56,715 will be required for the garbage department. Of this, $52,675 has been set aside for salaries. However, it is unlikely that anyone knows what the cost will be, because pay this year is to be arrived at through a tonnage system this year.

Salaries and wages at the sewage disposal plant will run $14,110, and the cost, including $34,000 for construction or extension of the plant, $30,761. The city floated a $60,000 bond issue for repairs last year. The demands were forced by the State Health Department. It is also probable the state will force the city to keep its agreement, arrived at in a private conference, to float another $70,000 bond issue for further treatment of sewers. The state already is insisting upon this.

The city expects to pay $21,000 for resurfacing and repair of streets this year. The state saved some of the city's thoroughfares during the last year or two at a small cost to local taxpayers. So far no one knows when Taylor street will be paved, possibly not until the war ends.

The city will pay less for street lighting this year than ever—$83,000. In fact, the city has more street lights now at that price than it had years ago for a much larger price.

Recreation Cost

Recreation and playground operation here will cost the taxpayer $56,678.92. Out of this will come the cost of paying guards to protect children sledding. This sum does not include the approximately $14,000 donated to the Mayor's committee by citizens. The city now employs a year round director at $1,000 per year.

Out of the fire department payroll comes a salary for the OCD coordinator. He also assists the Mayor's recreation plans and is a fire bureau hazard inspectors.

Appropriated for ash and rubbish collection and disposal is $3,650, plus $50 other expenses. This probably is for employment of men, etc., at city dumps.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Chief. And there are plenty who would rather not vote for so comprehensive a measure. But these are not strong enough to prevent its passage if it were not for the weight of the labor leaders. It is the political power which they have achieved under this Administration that gives them an influence in Congress which they now seem ready to wield against the national interests in a war crisis.

WHEN THE press-agent phrases which these labor leaders have used in opposing national service are disregarded, the real reason is clear. At bottom they are opposed to it because of the fear that it would take away their right to strike—a right which they should not have at all in war but which they have jealously guarded in this war just the same. Mr. Roosevelt has pointed out that the legislation he asks would not reduce wages or affect hours or conditions of work. It would, however, put an end to slow-downs, walkouts and strikes for the rest of the war. It would insure an adequate supply of labor under all conditions.

AND, apparently, that is exactly what these men do not want. For many months now they have been unctuously praising themselves for their "no-strike pledge," which proved wholly ineffectual to stop literally thousands of strikes. They noisily proclaim labor's "magnificent performance" in war production, despite the provable fact that great as the production has been, it would have been very much greater but for labor's lags and strikes. Their pledges, pretensions and loudly advertised patriotism are in direct conflict with their opposition to this proposal. They have no right to place their judgment on so critical an issue in so serious a moment against that of the united military authorities.

LAST YEAR Mr. Roosevelt co-operated with the effort of these leaders to defeat the national service bill by tying strings to his recommendations which insured its defeat. He joined with the military chiefs in urging national service, but he insisted that Congress simultaneously should enact four other measures which it was perfectly clear Congress would not do. So the national-service effort of 1944 failed. This time the need is greater and Mr. Roosevelt has tied no strings to his recommendation. He backed by the military authorities, unequivocally asks for it. It would be a fine thing to see him bump the heads of these labor-leader friends of his together and tell them to get out of the road.

IF HE does not do so, the bill will fail again. As Chairman May of the Military Committee, who will introduce it in the House, said a few days ago, it will not pass unless the Administration gives it "wholehearted support," which certainly it did not give before. As Senator Austin said, only "lip service" was given it last time. It is hard to believe the President will justify this sort of indictment again. Though the original national-service proposal was sponsored by two Republicans—Senator Austin and Representative Wadsworth—there is a disposition among certain other Republicans to hold back on it now. But the main opposition comes from the labor leaders. If they were in favor, passage would be assured. If the bill fails this time or is compromised it will show Congress as unwilling to make total war possible when total war is called for by the united military authorities and a most critical situation.

their relative ages to quarrel a great deal. And these particular children should be expected to quarrel much more than the average pair. You see the boy's superior school achievement in overtaking his sister and being in her grade and classroom every day has made her feel relatively inferior and feel, also, that he has caused this feeling. The chances are, too, that he helps her more than she can help him in school work. The teachers and you parents and your friends in all sorts of ways, without meaning to do so, magnify his successes and to that degree, her inferiority. If there is another section of this school grade, try to persuade the school to place him there.

Jealous Daughter

You are wholly mistaken when you say "there is no jealousy." Impossible to be otherwise, and the jealousy that daughter suffers you and I can have no conception of. You and dad and your friends and teachers should work together to emphasize less the excellence of the boy and to help the girl win more successes, particularly outside of school, in all sorts of ways, and play up these successes. Spend more time in companionship with her. Prove to her and him you consider her more grown-up than he. See that he respects her property rights, and is not a tag-along.

When their quarrelling endangers either one physically, endangers property, annoys your neighbors, or bothers you beyond endurance, merely separate them without attempt to place the blame. Otherwise don't interfere.

Encourage her to cultivate more playmates of her own choice; him, more of his choice. Expect their likes and interests now to be widely different and to grow more different.

Gen. MacArthur Meets Old Foes

Gen. Homma Was Opponent In Original Battle For Bataan In Philippines

CONDITIONS ARE MUCH CHANGED

By CLARK LEE (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH MACARTHUR'S FORCES OFF LINGAYEN, Jan. 11.—If it is true as the Japanese radio reported that General Masaharu Homma is now commanding the Japanese forces in Luzon, nothing could make General Douglas MacArthur happier.

(Editor's Note: The Nazi DNB agency reported that Homma is still in Tokyo and quoted him as saying: "The American landing on Luzon is a threat to Japan's position in east Asia that cannot be ignored." Immediate counter-measures were essential, he continued, particularly as the Americans "might make further landings which would expose Manila to fresh dangers.")

"Jap Navy To Act

"It may be taken for granted," Homma was quoted as saying, "that the Japanese navy will now go into action and deal blows in this theatre of operations. The moment for determined action is at hand."

Homma is the English speaking Jap general who for three years and has an Oxford accent—who told me in Tientsin in 1940 that Japan was prepared to lose ten million men in her war with America.

Homma hates the British as he showed by his brutal treatment of English nationals during the Tientsin blockade but he always said he respected America's potential power.

Three years ago this month on Bataan, he learned that his regiment was well founded when he hurled forward on his right. Again MacArthur was ready. He outguessed the Jap.

Homma was living at the time in MacArthur's air conditioned suite in the Manila hotel. MacArthur was eating army rations with his hard-pressed troops.

Eventually Homma was removed because of his failure, with crack divisions at his command, to break through MacArthur's thin lines.

Then Yamashita took over.

Old Enemies

Thus Homma and MacArthur are old enemies and the score stands at one to nothing in MacArthur's favor.

that Homma, in contrast to many high Jap officers, was at least outwardly a gentleman and MacArthur answered: "I will be glad to meet the gentleman some day...when I receive his sword in surrender."

Japs, as it is well known, seldom surrender, so it seems more likely that when Homma is eventually defeated—as is evident after only 24 hours after our landing—that the Japs are certain to be—his sword will wind up in his honorable belly.

Issues Warning To Dog Owners

Howard McLure, state dog law enforcement agent, has issued a warning to owners of dogs to keep them under control and not permit them to run at large. Because a dog has a license does not allow an owner to permit it to run at large, and out of control.

Police have the right to go upon property or enter any premise to seize and detain any dog which has been found running at large, unaccompanied by its owner, the state law states.

Any dog seized which has a proper license can be detained. The owner is to be notified and the cost of providing for the dog must be paid for by the owner.

Police officers have the right to kill any dog which does not bear a proper license, running at large, according to the state law.

State Farm Show Draws To Close

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 29th annual state farm show drew to a close today with representatives of more than three-score organizations looking forward to a bright agricultural picture in the post war era.

The peace time program was expected to be geared to keep step with national economy.

Despite machinery and labor handicaps, farmers were unanimous in pledging the continuation of the state's record breaking food production program to help supply the armed services and the home front.

Although the three day series of business meetings will end today the Pennsylvania cooperative potato growers' association was slated to meet tomorrow with representatives of business and cooperatives to scan "spud" production goals for 1945 and sketch the industry's value in relation to state and national prosperity.

Three years ago this month on Bataan, he learned that his regiment was well founded when he hurled forward on his right. Again MacArthur was ready. He outguessed the Jap.

Girl Scouts Plan Coupon Collection To Help Veterans

Most of the time you throw away the coupons on groceries, anyway, so you won't mind turning them over to Girl Scouts from now on. The girls will be collecting coupons from a list of about 100 products which will be given to them some time this week by the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Marjorie Miller, Scout executive, explained. These coupons will then be turned in to the American Legion, which will redeem them for money or gifts, with the gifts going to the soldiers in the Deshon hospital at Butler and the money going into a state fund to buy specialized equipment for one of the veterans' hospitals. Last year some occupational therapy equipment for Deshon was bought with the state fund.

Seed Idle Land, Says Soil Analyst

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers were urged today to maintain the fertility of idle land in preparation for the post war planting.

Dr. Fred V. Gran, Pennsylvania State college soil analyst, recommended seeding with grasses and legumes to preserve vital minerals and prevent soil erosion in an address to the Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers association.

"Soils, forced into idleness through lack of manpower, may still be profitably used," he stated.

Miss Helen Holliday, East Street, Gets Word Of Nephew Injured By German Sniper

Miss Helen Holliday, 111 East street, has received word relating that her nephew, Pfc. Brantley Johnson, of the U. S. Armed Forces, suffered a serious hand injury caused by a German sniper while administering first aid to a buddy on the battlefields in France. He is confined to a hospital in England at present.

Pfc. Johnson, who is well known here, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. B. M. Johnson of Harvey, Ill., and grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. George B. Holliday of Plaingrove.

Marines Call For 150 Dog-Soldiers From This District

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—Although they're not being called up before the draft board, this district's dogs, especially Doberman Pinschers and German Shepherds, are needed to help fill the 150-dog quota before January 31, according to Marine headquarters in Pittsburgh.

Only male dogs are wanted, and the eligible ages are one to four years. The pups should be 27 inches high, weigh about 70 pounds, being of clean blood lines, healthy and aggressive, but not vicious, says Lt. Col. A. E. Simon.

Anyone wishing to volunteer a dog for duty with the Marines should write to the Marine Corps recruiting headquarters in the Old Post Office building, Fourth avenue and Smithfield street, in Pittsburgh.

Report Accident On W. Pittsburg Road

Claire M. Mates, R. D. 5, sustained an injury to his neck Wednesday afternoon when the car he drove reportedly skidded and crashed into the auto of Edgar Allshouse of Banksville avenue, Pittsburgh, near through license fees charged for excavation and curb building permits and also city maps and blueprints.

house auto which was operated from the opposite direction. After undergoing treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital, Mates was discharged.

S-Sgt. C. Glasser Gets Bronze Star

Local Soldier On German Border Restores Communications Under Shell Fire

Staff Sgt. Clarence Glasser is on 90 days furlough and special duty, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gibson, 355 Neshannock avenue, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glasser, of Rose Point.

Sgt. Glasser recently returned from active service on the German border, where he sustained an injury.

He has been decorated with the Bronze Star and promoted to staff sergeant for service beyond the line of duty. The enemy had caused the line of communications to become interrupted, Sgt. Glasser's superior officer had been wounded, and Glasser, under shell fire, undertook to try and restore communications, which he finally accomplished.

SHADES OF MARK TWAIN
GALLIPOLIS, O.—(INS)—Samuel Langhorne Clemens, lovingly known the world over as Mark Twain, would doubtless have laughed at the pretensions of being a man of property. Nevertheless, records recently uncovered in the dusty retreats of an ancient courthouse near Gallipolis, Ohio, revealed that Twain's grandfather once owned 119 acres of land in Mason county, Virginia. The land, now owned by West Virginia, was sold by the Clemens family when Samuel was 12 years old.

Army Paper Tells How Saarguemes Avoided War's Hell

Warrant Officer James C. Bradford
Sends Home Stars And Stripes
With Interesting Item

Included in a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bradford, of 1114 Wilmington avenue, Warrant Officer James C. Bradford, who is stationed in Lorraine, France, near the city of Saarguemes, recently captured by the Yanks, outlines an item of exceptional interest written by one of the Stars and Stripes Staff Writers.

It gives an interesting description of a huge cave in which the occupants of Saarguemes took refuge to escape the fury of the battle between the Yanks and Nazis. The cave was an old calcium mine.

Not only did the residents take their personal belongings and household goods into the old mine, but their cows, horses, pigs, and other forms of livestock, as well as automobiles and trucks. There was room there for 30,000 people, the article states.

An American Major, walking into the cave, and expecting to be greeted with possible shellfire, was instead met by a Spanish vice-consul, who proudly guided him along a brilliantly lit tunnel to his four-room, plywood house, and pointed out nearby, where his limousine stood in a nearby passage-way, and also exhibited his private stock of liquor, which consisted of some 60,000 bottles of assorted wines.

The Yanks even found a 12-bed hospital, attended by two doctors, and were informed that eight babies had been born there since September, when the residents of Saarguemes first took refuge in the cave.

Berle Nominated As Brazil Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—President Roosevelt on Wednesday nominated former Assistant Secretary of State Adolph A. Berle, Jr., to be United States Ambassador to Brazil.

Berle was one of the original New Deal braintrusts. After advising Mr. Roosevelt during the campaign in 1932, he was appointed financial adviser to the American Embassy in Cuba in 1933. When he was removed from the state department, Berle was serving as Chairman of International Aviation conference in Chicago.

TELEVISION ERA NEAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Within one year after the last shot is fired in World War II, all of the larger communities in the nation will have regular television service. Irwin A. Shapiro, executive director of Television workshop, predicted today.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—
Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help keep people young about 30 years a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Don's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons waste from your blood. Get Don's Pills.

Local Marine Back From S. W. Pacific

Sgt. Leroy George Klam, attached to the U. S. Marine Corps, is on 30 days furlough visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klam, 1606 Hamilton street.

He recently returned from the southwest Pacific, where he was in service for 25 months.

Sgt. Klam was with the third marine amphibious corps. He took part in the Solomons and New Georgia campaigns. He has been in the service since November 29, 1939.

After the conclusion of his furlough he will go to the Philadelphia naval base where he has been assigned.

Flying Buses And Taxicabs In Future Within Possibility

DETROIT, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The possibility of flying buses and taxicabs at costs not exceeding those of land vehicles was unfolded today before the annual meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

James R. Kendrick of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif., said such vehicles would be entirely practical in the future. The "air-cabs" would carry five passengers on flights of 10 to 20 miles. Hops of five miles could be made, he said, for the purpose of saving time and would cost from five to 10 cents per mile.

Kendrick also described plans in the making for a 24-passenger "air-bus" which would produce between $1,320,000 and $2,002,000 in revenue in its 10,000-hour normal life.

HOPE IN SIGHT
NEW YORK, N. Y.—(INS)—Hope is in sight for the sufferers of the dread Hemophilia, incurable hereditary bleeding disease which scourged the Spanish royal family.

A substance derived from blood plasma has been successful in stopping hemorrhages resulting from hemophilia. It was reported recently to the American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association by Professor Edwin L. Cohn of the Harvard Medical school.

Filipinos Urged To Rally Behind Yank Invasion

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LEYTE, Philippines, Jan. 11.—President Sergio Osmeña on Wednesday issued a stirring appeal to Filipinos on Luzon to rally behind General MacArthur's forces in the march on Manila.

"The decisive hour in the battle of the Philippines has arrived," Osmeña told his people.

"MacArthur has called on us to rally behind him. I know every patriot, guerrilla and civilian will heed the call so the enemy may feel the full strength of an outraged people. Rally behind his forces to your utmost so his burden of battle may be lightened," he said.

At the same time Maj. Gen. Basilio Valdez, chief of staff, said the Philippines army had never ceased to exist.

"Our army has been fighting on Luzon since the fall of Corregidor," the army official said.

These units would be joined by other Philippine army units trained in the United States and Australia and then reinforced by troops from liberated Leyte, the general said, emphasizing that the Philippine army "will rally behind" General MacArthur.

Mrs. Ira Eaker
Has Same Kicks
As Any GI's Wife

General Didn't Get His Christmas
Packages; Has Been Overseas
Three Years, She Says

By MARTHA KEARNEY

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The general's lady has the same beefs to register as the wife of the unlucky buck private in the army.

Not only has Lieut. Gen. Ira

Eaker, Allied air commander in the Mediterranean theater, been overseas for three years but according to Mrs. Eaker the army postal service is playing ducks and drakes with their morale.

"All the other men had from one to ten packages for Christmas and my poor husband didn't get a package, a Christmas card or a letter,"

she said plaintively. "He wrote and told me that I was falling down on the job both in the correspondence department and the Christmas department.

"I felt pretty awful because he loves Christmas so. Actually I had sent him three boxes and I'd been writing all along. I guess he had the thinnest Christmas of any man in the outfit."

Having a husband overseas apparently is just as tough for the woman whose husband sports three stars as for the wife whose husband is pulling for his first stripe.

"Don't you think three years is a long time for him to be gone?" Mrs.

Eaker asked wistfully. "He was home once for three days and then again for one week but there are long intervals in between.

"I wish, the same as everyone else, that the war would be over soon so that the men could come back. I don't think anyone should venture predictions though."

Mrs. Eaker, who is very young and very attractive, came to Washington from California because Gen.

Eaker will come to the capital whenever he is in the United States.

"I don't hear from him very often but sometimes I read about him in the papers and know he is all right.
Anyway in the army—and especially in the air force—you always comfort yourself by thinking that no news is good news."

Mrs. Westover was charged with the death of Weidel following a street brawl last September 23. The commonwealth charged Weidel's death on November 9 was the result of injuries inflicted by Mrs. Westover during the street altercation.

Byrnes Orders Conservation Of Coal Supply

Dimout Of Out-Door Display Advertising, And 68 Degree Heat In Homes Directed

By EARLE MARKKES
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The government's wartime conservation program moved into high gear today as war mobilizer James P. Byrnes acted to save sixteen million tons of coal annually by ordering a dim-out of all out-door display advertising and requesting a 68-degree maximum temperature in every home and building.

Warning of an "impending coal shortage," Byrnes also instructed the office of defense transportation to sharply curtail rail service by eliminating special and excursion trains and halting any increase in passenger schedules to resort areas.

Attributing the sweeping order to severe manpower shortages and a critical production decline, Byrnes said he hoped coal rationing "can be avoided" by prompt compliance with his directive.

"I am certain the public will support wholeheartedly a coal conservation program which will assure the coal essential for war purposes," he said. "I believe this action will give us the savings that now seem imperative if our full war effort is to be maintained."

Coal Conservation

Byrnes explained that he felt it necessary to put "some coal conservation measures into effect immediately" after conferring with the office of war mobilization's advisory board.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, who is also solid fuels administrator, had earlier been credited with urging a nationwide dim-out firmly denied these reports, thus raising the question whether he had been by-passed prior to issuance of the order.

"There's nothing to these reports," Ickes said. "I have never advocated a dim-out."

Byrnes estimated that a ten percent reduction in heating office buildings, hotels, apartment stores and other establishments would save approximately fourteen million tons of coal annually, and curtailed use of display advertising would conserve two million tons.

The war production board was directed to issue "the requisite orders to prohibit all outdoor advertising, ornamental and display lighting except in those areas where flush gas and hydro-electric power can be shown to be available without drawing on the coal supply."

Office of War Information officials immediately sought to determine whether the agency's outdoor war bond advertising signs and similar lighting projects were included in this category.

Instructing all government building superintendents to maintain 68-degree temperature and institute a turn-out-the-lights campaign Byrnes specifically urged home residents to cut off heaters when houses are unoccupied and observe the maximum heating limit at other times.

Outlining the conservation order, Byrnes estimated that coal stockpiles on April 1 will represent a 22-day supply, an eight-day supply below normal, and available bituminous miniers will number 30,000 in 1945 as compared with 420,000 in 1944 and 435,000 in 1943.

Joseph Spratt Dies In New Brighton

Well Known Beaver Valley Funeral Director Dies Suddenly Wednesday

Word has been received here of the sudden death of Joseph J. Spratt of New Brighton following a heart attack Wednesday afternoon at 12:10 o'clock. Mr. Spratt was a member of the company of Joseph J. Spratt and Brother funeral homes, New Brighton and Beaver Falls.

Mr. Spratt, aged 60 years, had been in business for 30 years. He was past president of the Beaver County Funeral Directors Association, the Western Pennsylvania Funeral Directors Association and of the Beaver Falls Kiwanis club.

Survivors include his wife, Julia Spratt; two sons, Joseph J. Spratt Jr., stationed with the Army in the Far East, and Jack Spratt, located with the Marines in the South Pacific area; two daughters, Julia and Marydawn Spratt, both at home, and one brother, Edward Spratt, director of the Spratt funeral home at Beaver Falls.

Solemn high mass of requiem will be offered Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic church, New Brighton.

WOMAN ON PROBATION

MCKEESPORT, Pa., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Mrs. Dorothy Calcutt, 30, today was under five years' probation after admitting she started a fire in a McKeesport hotel last June 14 because she got a "thrill" out of seeing people half-clad flee from their rooms.

Mrs. Calcutt told the court she was sorry for what she had done and explained that she had been drinking at the time. No one was injured in the blaze.

One Day Lost In City Schools Still Remains Problem

Teachers of the New Castle school system will not be required to make up the day lost on December 12 on account of heavy snow, but the question of whether or not they must make up the second day lost on account of snow has not yet been decided, Superintendent Frank L. Burton stated at the meeting of the school board Wednesday night.

On December 12, the shop building of the school system operated and many of the teachers in the various grades reported for duty. Due to the heavy snow, the day's session was called off but technically the school system operated because of the shop building's operation. The second day no classes operated. Whether this will come off the Easter holiday or will be counted as a day's school is not yet decided.

More Men Brought To Deshon Annex

Sixty-three men were brought into the Deshon Annex at Cunningham Park from the Deshon General Hospital on Wednesday, January 10th, and about forty more are expected today or tomorrow. On Tuesday 23 men were brought in and before the week is over it is expected the enrollment at the Annex will be at least 125.

Recently Captain Jack T. Sedwick was assigned to the Annex as commanding officer and will have charge of medical reconditioning of the men. Captain J. Kenneth Vanderhoof will have charge of the physical reconditioning and Lieutenant Leo T. Nealon will have charge of the educational program.

By the end of the week all barracks in camp will be used and probably every other building on the grounds. The total of men in the camp by the end of the week will probably be the highest it has been since the camp was opened last spring.

Programs Start At West Pittsburg

Tonight marks the first of a series of four programs of war motion pictures which will be shown in Diaz Hall, West Pittsburg under the sponsorship of the Oliver Iron and Steel Corporation. The films are furnished by the Pittsburgh Ordnance Bureau.

Three war films, a comedy and a musical reel will be shown tonight. The war films are "Kill or Be Killed," "The Liberation of Rome," and "The Backdoor to Japan." All of them are action pictures, none of them are studio epics, and each one of them carries a piece of the war drama now being enacted.

This is not a commercial venture but is a part of a program of visual education by the Army. The pictures are made possible for West Pittsburg by the Oliver Iron and Steel Corporation.

There are more than 100 cannon and more than 14,000 small arms and machine guns in an army infantry division.

LARGE VERDICT One of the largest damage verdicts returned in several years was that brought in by the jury hearing the case of Samuel D. Cox against Alfonso Scarazzo. The verdict was for $8500 in favor of Mr. Cox. The case arose out of an accident in front of the Sparano Cafe on Liberty street. Employees of Mr. Scarazzo were delivering beer to the cafe and had removed the trap door from a chute leading to the cellar. Mr. Cox had gone into the cafe before the delivery was made and upon coming out of the cafe Mr. Cox stepped into the opening. He claimed injuries to the sacro-lumbar region of the back and other injuries. The jury trying the case was composed of ten women and two men.

SALARY BOARD Meetings of the salary board are about completed and the heads of the various departments have presented their desires to the board. The salary board is composed of the three county commissioners, the county treasurer and the head of each department as the department is being heard. No statement has been made as to what will be done in the way of adjusting salaries as yet.

Dr. J. G. Fowlkes To Make Address Educator Surveying School System Here To Be Heard On Thursday, January 18

Dr. John Guy Fowlkes of the University of Wisconsin, who has about completed his survey of the public school system of New Castle, will address a public meeting in the senior high school Thursday night, January 18. It was announced today. The meeting is sponsored by the Home Department of the Woman's club. The purpose of the Woman's club in sponsoring such a meeting is to give the citizens of New Castle an opportunity to hear Dr. Fowlkes discuss education and perhaps the report which he is to submit to the school board. It is not known definitely whether the report will be included in his address, but it is thought that the report or at least a preliminary report will be made to the school board Sunday afternoon, January 14. This meeting will be informal but will be for only the directors and the superintendent.

Dr. Fowlkes will address a joint meeting of civic clubs, the city on January 16, but space limitations will probably restrict this meeting to members of the civic clubs. In order to give Dr. Fowlkes a wider scope in discussing educational problems the Woman's club decided to sponsor a public meeting, this to be held on Thursday night, January 18.

GIVE WORKER "HOT-FOOT" PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Rufus Bisslerup, 40-year-old welder at the Philadelphia Navy yard, was to be arraigned today before a U.S. commissioner for the death of a fellow-worker who was given a "hot-foot" with a blow torch. The victim, Maron Jackson, was napping between jobs when the tragic prank took place. The flame ignited his grease-soaked overalls and in an instant Jackson became a human torch.

One Allegheny County Fugitive Taken After Chase

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 11.—(INS)—State police and Fayette county authorities today captured Nick Deremebeis, Allegheny County jail fugitive, after a five-mile automobile chase which was climaxed by the firing of several shots.

Deremebeis, Ernest DeWitt, who is wanted for questioning regarding several Fayette and Washington county robberies, and a girl, Betty Umbel of West Brownsville, through whom authorities traced Deremebeis, were captured when the fugitive drove his car into a dead end road at Vestaburg and sideswiped a parked car. Police shot at the tires of the fugitive's car and Deremebeis surrendered.

Authorities said they had learned that Deremebeis was to contact the girl and that two state police officers were on the scene when he drove by her house and picked her up in a car.

They immediately gave chase, but were unable to stop the fugitive until he got to Vestaburg.

Authorities said they found a .45 calibre revolver and a sawed-off shotgun in the car. DeWitt, police said, had been ordered by Deremebeis to fire on the pursuing officers, but had refused.

Meanwhile, authorities continued to scour the southwestern Pennsylvania area for any trace of Melvin Loveland, who escaped from jail with Deremebeis last October.

Pottery-Epworth Win First Half

First-Half Of Indus-Church
Basketball League Closes
At "Y" Wednesday

Shenango Pottery won the first-half championship in the Industrial basketball league that ended at the "Y" last night, with 10 wins and no defeats. Epworth Methodists turned in a like number of wins and no defeats, won the church league first-half championship.

The results last night did not alter the standings one bit. In the first game the Epworth team true to form handed the Third U. P. a 32 to 26 defeat. In the second game the Shenango Pottery continued to maintain its superiority over the Johnsons by winning 45 to 28 in easy fashion. Dix Santangelo and Bis Davis led the champions to their win, while Tuscano was best in the Bronze lineup.

Second-Half To Start
In the final game the second-place First Baptist team throttled the First Presbyterians 18 to 10.

The second-half race for the honors will start Friday night at the "Y". A much better and closer race is looked for in both leagues. The Pottery coached by the veteran Nick Ross and Epworth by Frank Reed are sure to be in the playoffs at the end of the season, providing they don't repeat.

REYNOLDS and SUMMERS

STATE FEDERATION OF sportsmen may not be able to hold their annual convention in Harrisburg February 1, unless President Colin Reed of Washington, Pa., can convince War Mobilizer James P. Byrnes it is necessary to the war effort. The federation and this is above the 50 allowed to travel. This causes Seth L. Myers, Northwest Pennsylvania Sportsman writer to warn sportsmen to be "on the balls of their feet" for fear some new or other member of the legislature may attempt to enact bills inimical to hunting and fishing matters.

Charles J. McAllister, formerly of Quest street, is with the Fifth Army in Italy according to an army news release. He recently was commissioned a second lieutenant. He leads a platoon in the 91st Powder River Division, the release reports. He has been overseas since July, 1944. His wife and daughter, Barbara, reside at Wallhalla, Route 1, S. C. Two brothers, Roy and Edward, are in the Navy and Marines respectively. If recollection serves accurately he played with the National Rads. Those old enough to shave daily remember Reggie McNamara, the bicycle racer—a six day grinder. He is working in a shipyard at Kearney, N. J.

A person does not need to go to Florida to see shapely pulchritudinous aquatic performers. Swimmers' classes are conducted here X-Ray Jim reports. A businessman who forwarded dums in a New Year's greeting envelope has been termed 1945's joy-killer. Lawrence Robertson, famous track coach of the University of Pennsylvania is in his thirtieth coaching year. Although some public doors are often closed, secrets leak out. The colored boys now have the call in boxing. Years ago a matchmaker who signed two meerschautm untied lads to exchange punches was termed insane because they rarely drew big houses. Things are different now, thanks to Joe Louis.

Not so long ago an opinion was expressed which in effect said the mainman was the city's most popular man. His runner-up is the garbage man. If the latter can get a truck through snow-drifted street or a deep-rutted alley the garbage man will perform his job well. It's nothing unusual to hear 'em singing or whistling while other folk remain warm in quilts. Queen, the canine matron at the streets department, has fully recovered from a tumor operation paid for by street workers. She greets everyone of the 44 men every morning with a wag of her tail according to Dude O'Brien and Bill Travers.

Report has reached us that the Catholic Grade and Reserve Basketball League schedules have been revamped. No results have been received recently following games. Game Protector Frank Coen has reported a businessman to the game commission, he told the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association, for refusing to sell shotgun shells unless hunters took out a license at his place. Coen's intention was to have the situation changed or right to sell licenses revoked. Heard this yesterday: Protector Coen met a trout fisherman. "Get any trout?" he asked. "Yes, 15," the fisherman replied. "You're crazy," said Coen, leaving. The man had 15 in his coat. Later: "If I knew at that time he had 'em I would have shot him," Coen was quoted as saying.

Some folk are energetic when they run for office but lethargic after they clutch the plum yet wonder why friends grow aloof and shake heads dolefully. Some races are lost on the first lap and ground lost, be it on a cinder path or in politics, is twice as hard to recover. Panchon Segura, Ecuadorian net star doubts he will ever win the American tennis championship explaining "I'm too nervous. I cannot be cool like American players." Americans are cool. The Germans found that out when Brigadier-General McAuliffe told the German general who asked for surrender: "Nuts!"

"Twont be long until 'Rosy' White will be on his feet and preparing to stock trout in streams—and here's hoping they live. Why not put in Big and Little Mouth, Pike and other game fish in adaptable streams? Some claim bass and trout won't live in the same stream. Wrong! There are bass in the hole at Jake McCracken's farm through which the Slippery Rock forges at Harlansburg and 50 yards upstream trout lives. Last season was a fishing flop according to anglers. A lot of people will give the former streets cleaner of Minneapolis a clean bill of health if he makes some sweeping reforms while in Congress.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Gen. John J. Phelan's successor as chairman of the New York State Boxing Commission—most important such post in the nation—is expected to be known shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will meet in his New York suite with sports writers. The tumultuous and sometimes comical Phelan era is expected to end with Eddie Eagan taking over.

Gen. Phelan became a member of the commission in January of 1930 and was elevated to chairman a year later, when Jim Farley resigned to devote his talents to the impending presidential campaign of Mr. Roosevelt.

Phelan Knew Little
Gen. Phelan knew little or nothing about the intricate and shadowy boxing business when he joined the governing body in New York, where most of the important matches were and are held. In time he caught on after a fashion and whenever he personally was stumped or confused he inadvertently made it unanimous with his orations in double talk. Yet, in his own fumbling way he was an effective commissioner because of his sincerity and there would be any more fun in covering commission meetings.

Eagan, a lawyer by profession and an able talker. He also was an Olympic boxing champion and still rated by the oldtimers who saw him win innumerable titles around the world, including at Yale, where he introduced the ungentle sport, insist he probably was the greatest amateur that ever laced on a pair of mittens.

Of course, it is barely possible that Gov. Dewey will not announce the new boxing commission chairman after all, and instead will name his new head of the racing commission, which recently lost chairman Herbert Bayard Swope through resignation.

Insist On Eagan
However, Gen. Phelan's last two-year term has expired and it long has been known that the old Democrat was on his way out, making way for Eagan or some one as chairman and for Humbert Fugazy, the old promoter, or some one else for the vacancy left by recent resignation of D. Walker Wear, Cleveland Powell, the Negro publisher, will remain in to complete the three-man board.

Eagan's friends insist he is the man for the job. He can get along with or without the salary of $7,500 that goes with chairmanship of the board; he knows boxing up and down; he is smart and able and game enough to keep the chisellers in line.

Still, we will miss the general's hilarious meetings. We remember one time when the general was orating and some ill-mannered kibitzer kept up an undertone of conversation, causing the general to turn red with anger and finally sputter: "Less quiet please, gentlemen!"

Attorney Is Coach Of Wrestling Team

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 11.—Attorney Paul Campbell, former Eastern intercollegiate, 155-pound champion will mix wrestling with law again this winter.

The youthful State College attorney, who won titular honors as an undergraduate at Penn State in 1930, today confirmed his decision to coach the Nittany Lion wrestlers for the third straight year.

Campbell was drafted for the job when Charlie Speidel accepted a commission in the United States Naval Reserve, and he has stayed on the job ever since.

UNION JV'S WIN

The Union high Junior Varsity handed the New Wilmington Junior Varsity a 24 to 7 defeat last night at New Wilmington in a preliminary game.

Horse Players Saving Money

Fans Will Miss Such Stirring Events As Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Saratoga

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Racing fans, rally around . . . so we can punch the bag a little . . . and shed a few tears on each other's dandruff . . . over the things we're going to miss . . . like the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont, Futurity, Oaks, Hopeful, Saratoga Gold Cup and the Experimental Handicap . . .

That last one reminds us that the jockey club issued its regular racing calendar today . . . just as if everything were hotly-totzy with us two-buck bettors . . . and in it we find the weights for the Experimental . . . usually run at the Jamaica spring meeting.

There is only one man in the country whose opinion about a horse carries any weight . . . and that's the man who assigns the weights . . . John B. Campbell . . . official handicapper for the jockey club . . .

Have Lost Fortune
Smart eggs have lost fortunes backing their judgments against Campbell's . . . but wise hombres always give his Experimental weights a close gander for a hint on the Derby . . .

The Experimental reveals his opinion of the class of last year's crop of two-year-olds . . . 129 of which he thought worthy of mention . . . ranging from unbeaten Pavot and Free For All . . . each assigned 126 pounds . . . down to Ace Skipper, Catridge and Chaste Lady . . . all in at 104 . . .

Campbell makes Col. C. V. Whitney's Burg-El-Arab his third best horse . . . by assigning him 123 pounds . . . three more than Bobanet, Esteem, Pot o' Luck and Fighting Don . . .

Busher Top Filly
E. R. Bradley's Busher he rates the top filly by assigning her 119 . . . same as the colts Air Sailor, Floodtown and Polynean . . . this will jar the judgment of those of the following as probable winner of the Derby . . .

Good Blood, Hail Victory, Ricks Raft, The Dove and War Jeep . . . all at 118 . . . or Best Effort and Price Level . . . each in at 117 . . .

We are going to have a few megas riding on Esteem . . . but it may all be for the best . . . anyhow, we won't have 20,000 races this year . . . the thoroughbred record assures us we had 19,228 last year . . . and that total purses amounted to $29,164,500 . . . and that $7,984,934 was given to charity.

Hagg And Lidman Would Race Here

NEW YORK Jan. 11.—(INS)—The proposed tour of American indoor tracks by Gunder Hagg Swedish runner, and his compatriot hurling star Haakon Lidman, took on a new lease of life today.

A. A. U. Secretary-Treasurer, Daniel J. Ferris announced he had received a cable from the pair saying they would be willing to come to the U. S. by boat if such a trip could be arranged.

Previously Hagg had insisted he would come only by air, recalling that his 1943 summer trip to the U. S. entailed a 25-day voyage on a tanker. But no flying accommodations materialized.

Ferris predicted he would be able to arrange for the ocean voyage and that they might be in this country "in 10 days."

Mt. Jackson JV's Nudge Washington

Mt. Jackson Junior Varsity basketball team nudged George Washington yesterday at the Washington floor 17 to 16 in a fast and exciting battle. Washington held a 11 to 6 lead at halftime. Bader was the outstanding Jackson star, with Clark best for the North Hillians.

NEW WILMINGTON DEFEATS UNION

Score Is 27 To 9 In Weird Game At New Wilmington Floor.

In Section 21

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 11.—Coach Tim Hutchison's New Wilmington high Panthers basketball team, served notice on Section 21 last night, especially Coach Butler Hennon's Wampum Indians that New Wilmington will have to be reckoned with, in any championship in sectional honors, this year by trouncing Union high 27 to 9.

The veteran Hutchison had a well balanced and accurate shooting combination on the floor last night at the Community House and gave Union but four field goals and a lone foul for nine points. Shaffer paced the New Wilmington Panthers with 10 of the 27 points, while Chesner had seven points. New Wilmington's defense was practically impenetrable. Korab was the big point scorer for Union.

Friday New Wilmington will go to Shenango for another Section 21 game. New Wilmington and Wampum are now tied with Bessemer for the lead in the section, the latter of course having but two wins against three for New Wilmington and Wampum.

Game Commission Meeting Today

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Recommendations for a flexible system of increased bounties were expected to be made today during the January meeting of the Pennsylvania game commission at the state capitol.

While commission spokesmen said the session would probably be a routine meeting, the 10-member predator control committee was slated to present its report on methods of controlling predatory animals.

The committee approved a four-point resolution embracing encouragement of trapping, increased bounties and appointments of trained men for field studies.

PROFIT-TAKING ENTERS MARKET

Profit-Taking Appears In Second Hour After Spectacular Opening On Higher Level

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Stock market prices met profit-taking in the second hour this morning after a spectacular opening in which big blocks of leading issues changed hands at levels as much as a point above last night's close.

Realizing which developed later wiped out some of the gains and slowed up activity. First hour volume totaled 528,580 shares vs 373,690 in the same period yesterday.

Rails and steels were in the front of the market, scoring big gains in heavy trading in the start but receding later. Bethlehem Steel, up a point at first, lost more than half the betterment. Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania eased to small losses in the second hour. N. Y. Central held even. Other market groups were mixed, reflecting the see-saw trend in the leading issue. International Harvester, United Aircraft, and U. S. Rubber gained while Pullman, Pepsi-Cola, and Gulf Oil lost.

Grain prices were mixed with what off and on from the bond market was featured by another rise in reorganization rails.

Coulthard Gives First Report On Bus Situation

After hearing the municipal bus service investigator C. C. Coulthard report today following a study of several weeks, council today requested officials of the S. V. T. company to meet with council. Should the outlook for better service not develop during the conference, the problem may be taken before the PUC.

Mr. Coulthard's report today was pessimistic. He said the company admitted it is doing the best it can with its present equipment. Further, he asserted that, all buses excepting those garaged for necessary repairs are kept in service. The company has 17. He added that the system is not sufficiently flexible and there should be new routes. He suggested asking for them through the PUC. No action to follow this advice was taken today.

Mayor John F. Haven asserted today the company, upon receipt of two new buses (no one knows when they will arrive) intends to send two old buses to Sharon. He declared opposition to sending the old buses elsewhere and maintain them would be needed here.

Coulthard's proposed flexible system would be as follows:
East and West route through Washington street to city lines.
Croton avenue, via Jefferson and Grant street operation.
Moravia-Jefferson and Wilmington avenue route.

He would extend the Highland avenue Mahoningtown route time schedule so it can be maintained. Previously, it was reported, he had suggested turning the North-South bus at Washington street, but council has not discussed this option. However, it was learned council fears passengers will object to transferring at Washington street.

The mayor would, he said, cause one operator on each line to be a "boss" and act as a dispatcher to keep the vehicles from traveling in pairs or "threesomes."

Coulthard maintained better supervision could be had by the company installing a telephone and dispatcher at a central point to give orders when buses failed and replacements were needed.

County Makes New Record In Sixth War Loan

Judge W. Walter Braham, chairman of the sixth war loan campaign in Lawrence county, today announced that this county had over-subscribed its quota of $6,050,000 by 28 per cent. The final totals for over all sales of bonds in Lawrence county is $7,762,000. This is 128 per cent of the quota, the highest figure yet reached in bond campaigns.

In corporation sales Lawrence county purchased $4,893,000 against a quota of $3,500,000. The corporation sales showed 140 per cent of quota.

For the Fort Pitt region the overall purchases were 139 per cent of quota and 148 per cent of corporation bond quotas.

WARD COMPANY IN NEW ATTACK

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—(INS)—The legal battle between the government and Montgomery Ward & Co., supposedly was in abeyance today while Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan considered the claims of the opposing sides, but the company launched a new attack.

This came in the form of affidavits filed in Federal district court charging that the Army, since its seizure of 16 company properties in Chicago and six other cities December 28, had administered the business in an inefficient, wasteful and confused manner.

The affidavits charged that: Refunds to customers have been withheld up so long it would take the normal staff a month to catch up with them, instead of being paid promptly.

Residents' Nephew Dies In Youngstown

Edward Pesa, well known contractor of Youngstown, O., and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Massaro, Duquesne street, this city, died at his home, Wednesday morning, following a short illness.

In addition he leaves a number of friends and relatives here. The body is at the Schiavone funeral home, Belmont avenue, Youngstown, O., where friends may call.

Requiem mass will be offered Saturday at 9 a. m., in Mt. Carmel church, Summit street, Youngstown, O.

Ecclesian Club Has Installation

Installation of officers took place at the meeting of the Ecclesian club, held recently in the club rooms, South Jefferson and South streets, with a good attendance noted.

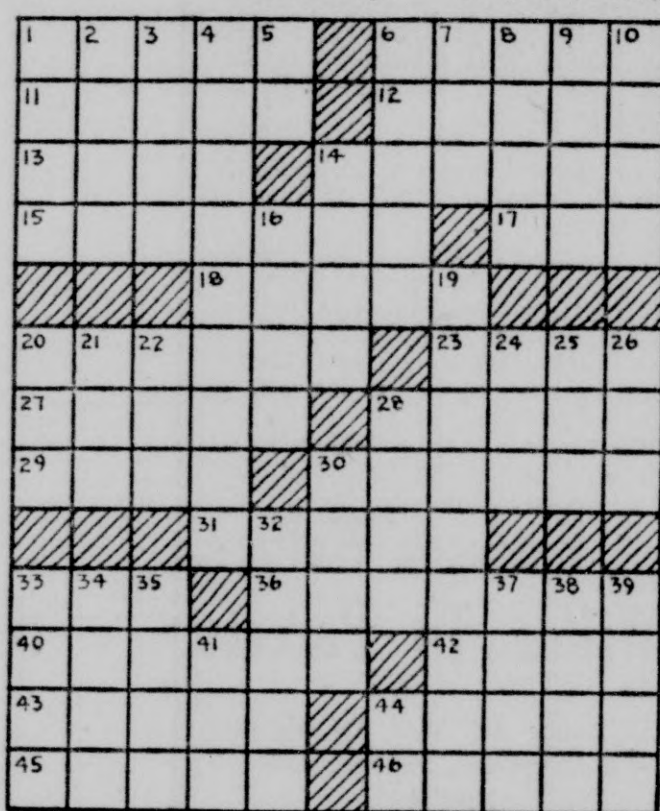

President, Ray McAuley; vice-president, Frank Haas; recording secretary, Charles Kelly; financial secretary, Clarence Brown; treasurer, Lee Houk; and Marshall, William Clinean; Art Mittler, bowling committee; Joe Factor, sports and entertainment; Francis Frey, social chairman; Mike King, house committee; and Frank Haas, contest committee.

Plans were made for the annual anniversary dinner to be held early in February, and for the annual pre-lenten mardigras.

Kiwanis To Head Polio Dime Drive

Campaign In Annual March Of Dimes For Infantile Paralysis Starts Next Week

CITIZENS ARE ASKED TO GIVE

At their noon luncheon meeting in the Castleton, Wednesday, New Castle Kiwanis club, with the child welfare committee taking the lead, will head the annual campaign for funds by the Lawrence county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

An explanation of what the National Foundation is doing was given by Clarence M. England, vice president of the Lawrence county chapter, and Charles Cleaver, and also how the campaign will be conducted here.

The officers of the Lawrence county chapter, William R. Hanna, president; Clarence M. England, vice president; L. C. Mantz, secretary, and R. L. Meemans, treasurer, are all Kiwanians, and it is fitting that the Kiwanis club head the campaign, which will be county wide in scope.

Slides were shown by Mr. England of the work done during the epidemic at Hickory N. C. recently.

Vice President Kenneth Beck presided at the meeting in the absence of President Harry Barkby, who is ill.

Guests from the Deshon hospital annex, who have just arrived here to take reconditioning work, were: Pfc. Donald Willets of Freeport, L. I. and Pfc. Maurice Sullivan of Watertown, N. Y. Pfc. Willets, who served with the 29th division, was wounded in France, while Pfc. Sullivan, who was with the fourth infantry division, also received disabling wounds in France.

NEW JOB FOR HATTIE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(INS)—President Roosevelt today nominated former Senator Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas to be a member of the United States Employment Commission.

Commissioner succeeding the late John J. Keegan. The post pays $9,000 a year.

Bear baiting and bull baiting were legal in England as late as 1835.

Woman On Trial In Street Brawl Death

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 11.—(INS)—The murder trial of Mrs. Oliver Westover, charged with the death of Herbert A. Weikel following a street brawl last September 23, got under way today at Hollidaysburg.

The woman is charged under two indictments, one for murder and the other assault and battery and assault and battery with intent to kill.

The commonwealth charges that Westover's death of November 9 was the result of injuries inflicted by Mrs. Westover during a street altercation.

Alaskan Huskies Arrive In City

Real Arctic Canines Are Brought To City By Sgt. Bill Reed, Formerly Stationed There

A pair of genuine Alaskan husky dogs have arrived in New Castle to make their future home, and are attracting a lot of attention from those who have seen them.

The canines were brought here by Sgt. Bill Reed, who spent over a year in Alaska, and when he and his comrades were returned to the states, Reed and two fellow sergeants decided to bring back a female dog, which gave birth to eleven puppies on arriving in Chicago, the home of one of the owners. Reed, as his share, received a pair of the dogs, now two months old.

Reed's uncle, Ed. C. Chapman, with whom he made his home prior to entering the service will get one of the dogs, while Bill plans to keep the other himself.

Restaurant Butter Will Be Thinner

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Western Pennsylvanians will still be served a pat of butter with each meal in hotels, restaurants and clubs—but it's going to be pretty thin.

That was the decision of Roy Gardner, of the Pittsburgh stewards and club managers association, Tom Troy of the Pittsburgh Hotels Association, and James Petrolas, of the Western Pennsylvania Restaurant Association, after a meeting in Pittsburgh.

Jesus Begins His Ministry

The Golden Text

The baptism of Christ.

"He saith unto them, Come ye after Me."—Matt. 4:19.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Jan. 14 is Matthew 3-4, the memory verse being Matt. 4:19. "He said unto them, Come ye after Me.")

Matthew, in his gospel, omits the period from Egypt to Joseph, Mary and the Child Jesus, and the preparatory ministry of John the Baptist, the forerunner of Christ.

"In those days," he writes, "came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea, and saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

"This is He that was spoken of by the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make His paths straight."

John is described as wearing clothes of camel's hair, with a leather girdle about his loins, eating locusts and wild honey—which are still foods in that part of the world.

His preaching was listened to with awe, even Pharisees and Sadducees coming to him to be baptized. These latter he re-proached, telling them they could take no comfort in the fact they were Jews—God's chosen people. They were sinners and must repent and be baptized; but the baptism with which he baptized them was water, he said, but he One who was to come was mightier than he, "whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose. He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire."

Jesus Comes to John

Jesus came to John to be baptized, and at first John would not baptize Him because he felt unworthy. Rather should Jesus baptize him, John. But Jesus said, "Suffer it to be so now; for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness." So John baptized Him.

As He came from the water the heavens were opened unto Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon Him.

"And lo a voice from heaven saying, This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

Jesus had no sins of which to repent, but in this act He identified Himself with the people to whom He was to preach and over whom He will reign. This is the start of His ministry, and God blessed it with His benediction. No other man ever heard these words from above uttered, and John must have felt that here was the confirmation of his own policy, and been awed.

Jesus, after His baptism, retired to the wilderness to meditate and pray. Here He was tempted of Satan. First, after fasting 40 days, hunger, Satan suggested that He turn the stones into bread; Jesus declined, saying, "Man shall not live by bread alone."

Satan then took Him to a high pinnacle of the temple, telling Him to cast Himself down, as God would not permit Him to be injured, but Jesus rebuffed Satan, saying, "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God."

The last temptation was the offer of all the kingdoms of the world if Jesus would bow down and worship him. Imagine! Jesus scorned him and told him, "Get thee hence, and Satan went away defeated."

John Is Imprisoned

Leaving the wilderness, Jesus heard that John the Baptist had been cast into prison, so Jesus departed into Galilee, leaving His home in Nazareth, and living in Capernaum, near which most of His ministry was spent and His works performed. He preached and taught, and "the people which sat in darkness saw great light."

Walking by the Sea of Galilee, Jesus saw two brothers, fishermen, Simon Peter and Andrew, and he said to them, "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men," and they left their nets and followed Him.

Going a little farther He saw two other brothers, likewise fishermen, the sons of Zebedee James and John. He called them and they, too, followed Him.

Thereafter Jesus went about Galilee teaching in the synagogues and healing all manner of sickness and disease.

"And His fame went throughout all Syria." Great multitudes of people followed Him "from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from beyond the Jordan." His great ministry was begun.

Income Taxpayers Near Deadline On Amended Return

January 15 Is Last Date For Filing Final Return, Deputy Collector Kummer Warns

Taxpayers who filed 1944 estimated income tax returns and have underestimated same in excess of 20 per cent, have until January 15, 1945, to amend their returns or in lieu of filing the amended return, may file a final return on or before this date. Deputy Collector Kummer advises.

Farmers may file a final return on or before January 15, 1945, in lieu of estimate which is due at this time.

The last day for filing income tax returns is March 15, 1945.

It is suggested that you call at your local office of internal revenue, Post Office building, New Castle, at an early date, where you will be given assistance.

The hours are from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Saturday.

Cpl. Emerson Walters Writes To Parents

Is Prisoner Of War Of German Government, Parents Are Notified

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Walters of 434½ County Line street received a postcard from their son, Cpl. Emerson R. Walters, 24 years of age, who is a prisoner of war of the German government.

"Dear Mom and Dad: It has been sometime since I have written and I know you have been worrying. Well, I am a prisoner of war as you can see, but I am all right, safe and sound. So please don't worry. Your son, Russ."

This is the first card received from him since May of 1944. Cpl. Walters has been in the service for 29 months and was assigned in the European theatre of war.

A brother, Joseph Walters, S. 1-c, U. S. navy, has not been heard from since November of 1944. Another brother, Pfc. Thomas Walters, is stationed at Eastview, N. Y.

Seek More Profit For Bee Keepers

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11.—(INS)—Standardization of equipment and handling methods was advocated today to boost profits for bee keepers.

John M. Amos, Pennsylvania State College specialist, told apiarists attending the state farm show that the use of uniform equipment would lower production costs.

"The cost of producing a pound of honey is governed to certain degrees by the equipment used and the efficiency with which it is handled," he stated. "Too many beekeepers mix their equipment and do not have enough on hand to care adequately for needs of the bee colonies."

Seven per cent of 27,258 colonies inspected by the state agriculture department last year were diseased, according to H. B. Kirk. Only 2.7 per cent of all hives inspected were properly housed, while 15 per cent were kept in illegal hives, he added.

AROUND CITY HALL

Mayor John F. Haven is serious as a city's chief executive but, at times, is wont to jest, so when quizzed for an interview recently replied: "Why don't you predict things to come?" Here's the reply:

State Health department will insist the city council keep its agreement to float an additional bond issue of $70,000 to pay for further repairs at the city disposal plant.

The city was permitted by the bureau to make repairs now under way and for which a $60,000 bond issue was sold, providing the council agreed to float the other bond issue. Council has not been in a hurry about doing so. It appears as though C. H. Young, district engineer for the state bureau will hold council to the agreement.

Some faces will be missing at the city's pay window this year.

A new traffic light will be installed on the North hill. The position may not please motorists.

The city will purchase new or used police cars.

The city will employ an assistant to the city assessor. Several have applied for the position. He may or may not be a real estate man.

Senior Service Troop To Induct Four Girls

Induction ceremonies for four senior scouts will be held by Senior Service troop 27 in the home of Mrs. Helen Edgar, Sheridan avenue, on Monday evening, January 15, at 7:30.

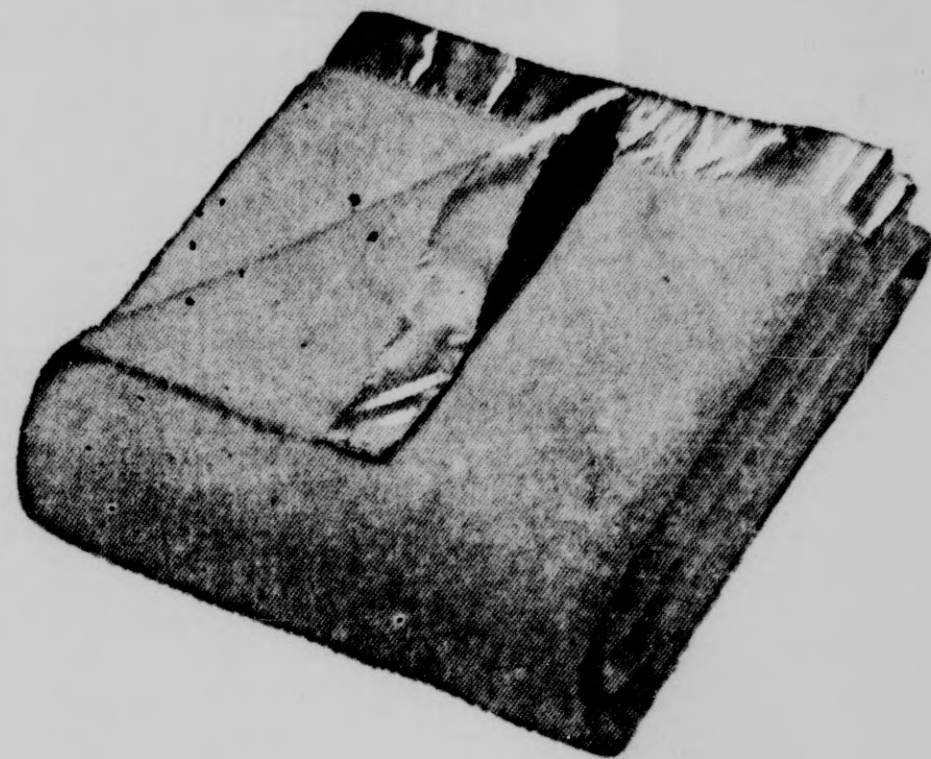

The girls are Shirley Urban, Jacqueline James, Pauline Curtis and Evelyn Murphy. This troop is the only Senior Service troop in the city.

OVER 40,000 WOMEN NOW EMPLOYED BY U. S. STEEL PLANTS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10.—(INS)—A total of 40,000 women are now employed by the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries. U. S. Steel news disclosed in its January issue released today.

Fifteen thousand of the women are in office occupations and 25,000 are directly engaged in production, the magazine stated. Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board of directors of U. S. Steel, was quoted as saying:

"Before Pearl Harbor, steelmaking was considered a trade for men. Today, however, women are doing excellent work in mill jobs and are to be congratulated for their part in producing steel for victory."

NEW CASTLE STORE

FILES SUIT TO RECOVER $550 FOR CHICKENS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 11.—(INS)—U. S. Attorney Charles F. Uhl filed a complaint in federal court to recover $550 and interest for chickens that Steve Zavatsky of South Connelville thought he had purchased almost four years ago.

Zavatsky purported to buy about 600 chickens from Sheriff Fred J. Broad at a sale April 4, 1941, in Wetmoreland county. The government contends all he purchased was the "right, title and interest" of George W. and Grace M. Hendricks, Mt. Pleasant R. D. 2, in the chickens.

Containing the fowls became the property of the U. S. government on July 11, 1940, under a chattel mortgage for a loan by the Farm Security Administration. Uhl charged the title to the chickens was the property of the government and valued at $550.

Pvt. G. W. Allshouse Wounded In Action

Pvt. George W. Allshouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Allshouse of McKeesport, was slightly wounded in action in France on December 18, according to a telegram sent to his parents by the War Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Allshouse are former residents of New Castle.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.
